FLYNN, BRIAN

*The Billiard Room Mystery. In the billiard room of Sir Charles Considine's country estate a man is found murdered with a dagger driven into his neck. Anthony Bathurst, that amiable and clever student of crime, happens to be present at the week-end party, and notices at once that the man while dressed in evening attire is wearing tan shoes. Moreover, one of them has a lace missing. With nothing more to go upon, Anthony sets out at once to unravel the crime. It is the most difficult case he has ever undertaken; one requiring the utmost delicacy and skill to prevent further horrors, and to capture the criminal. The solution is so unexpected, that there is no hint until the final page. $2.00

*The Case of the Black 22. Two men are murdered—the watchman in an auction room, and an American multi-millionaire. The whole affair is so baffling that the Scotland Yard Inspector is lost in a maze of contradictory clues. Then Anthony Bathurst, amateur student of crime, arrives. He joins forces with the Inspector and is able to unravel what seems to be a hopeless tangle. Here is a detective story, logical, intricate, exciting and plausible, yet so deftly constructed that the most ardent reader cannot anticipate the solution. $2.00

ARMSTRONG, ANTHONY

*The Secret Trail. Jimmy Rezaire, once a member of the underworld, having served a jail sentence, decides to go straight. Scarcely has he made this resolution when, by accident, he secures information, concerning a murder, and the attempt of a band of international thieves to steal a valuable invention from the British Government. Biography

TAYLOR, G. S.

According to the Cardinal. The Rollicking Chronicles of Touchard-Lafosse.

The most entertaining volumes from the pen of G. Touchard-Lafosse, these Chroniques de L'Oeil de Boeuf here translated by G. S. Taylor under the title of "The Rollicking Chronicles of Touchard-Lafosse," are the fruit of many years' research into the documents and memoirs of the period, both among libraries and private collections, which produced an enormous wealth of material concerning the reigns of Louis XIII, XIV, XV and XVI. Like Dumas, Touchard-Lafosse was something of a vulgarisateur; he was an exposer of character and not an explorer; but his irreverent pictures of dreary and incapable Louis XIII, of his tragic amorous wife and Buckingham, her handsome popinjay of a lover, of Madame de Chevreuse in her frailty and resourceful wit, of the less dignified antics of Richelieu as well as his more terrible aspect, are vivid, convincing and memorable. Octavo. Collotype illustrations. $3.75

BARRY, PHILIP BEAUFOY

*Sinners Down the Centuries. This volume is perhaps unusual in that it ranges from the Alexandria of Cleopatra to the Paris of the Second Empire and Cora Pearl. The Sinners who play their parts throughout those twenty centuries may seem an incongruous company, but all of them are bound by the thread of passionate experience. A Queen of Egypt—a Latin Poet who died in exile—a half insane monarch—a murderer verse-maker—a cold-blooded hunter of women—a King's mistress—a woman novelist whose lovers were almost as numerous as her novels—and a courtezan of genius, constitute some of the characters that fill the pages of this intriguing and amazing volume. Large 8vo. Profusely illustrated. $5.00

*Sons of Seven Cities

The basic idea of Mr. Holland's new book is to trace, through the story of the adventures of a young man, epochs of change in seven great cities of the United States. These cities and the periods at which the stories take place are: New York during the time of Peter Stuyvesant, Philadelphia under William Penn, Boston during the exciting period of the Revolution and the Battle of Bunker Hill, New Orleans when the Steamboat was changing the whole social fabric of the South, San Francisco during the Gold rush in '49, Chicago when it was beginning to dominate the Middle West, and Washington when Abraham Lincoln was President, and the Civil War raging. In each story a hero representing the influence of the new and the revolt against the old and his adventures are typical of the life of young men of these various times and also depict the characteristics of each city in various stages. The stories are filled with adventure and yet give an accurate and colorful picture of each period.

The book is illustrated with maps of the cities as they were at the time when the stories take place. They are as authentic as it is possible to make them and show not only famous historical landmarks, in each city, but indicate as far as possible the kind of houses which were typical of the time. Royal octavo, jacket in color, stained top. $3.00

ANTHONY, IRVIN

*Paddle Wheels and Pistols

The glorious story of the Mississippi from the earliest records to the present day. Beginning with the life of the Indians along the river and their legends of it. The story then takes up the exploits of the first white men who first saw it. These were Spaniards who came from Mexico by boat in 1519. Spain then sent an expedition of 600 men to explore the river and conquer Florida and of this number only a dozen returned alive. Next De Soto gave his life and was buried in the river. Following this ill-fated expedition, the heroic figure of La Salle came down from the north followed by the courageous and saintly Marquette. From this the narrative sweeps into the great days of the Mississippi and the steamboats with their races, and the men who sprang out of this life. Here are stories of adventure unequalled anywhere in the history of our country. The river developed a picturesque life. The exploits of the river steamer have come down to us in song and legend. The gamblers, the lumbermen, and cotton planters all share in this great scene. With the passing of the steamboat days, the Mississippi River develops into its modern aspect as a great inland waterway serving hundreds of thousands of people and countless miles of land. Illustrated in color from paintings by Manning deV. Lee; thirty black and white drawings by Lyle Justis; decorated, stained top. 4to boxed. $4.00

Edited by OLIVER G. SWAN

Deep Water Days is the second volume in the set of books dealing with the romance of America's history. It covers the period of American sea-faring life from about 1700 to 1860. One section shows the development of our trade from the earliest boats of the colonists that made their voyages along the coast, to the glorious clipper-ships that established records for speed that have never been equalled by sailing-ships. Another deals with the time when whaling-ships penetrated to all parts of the ocean and built the towns of Salem, Provincetown and New Bedford. The third part deals with the story of our early naval battles and another section deals with privateers and the romantic figures of Hayes, Captain Kidd, Blackbeard and other famous buccaneers and pirates. The book contains numerous true stories by men who lived during those times, fiction by the most famous sea-writers, and biographies of the famous characters, and practical articles on matters pertaining to the sea and ships, such as the navigation of small boats and methods of fishing. A list of the authors includes: Richard H. Dana, Herman Melville, James Fenimore Cooper, Ralph D. Paine, Frank R. Stockton, Jack London, Irvin Anthony, and many others. SHENTON, EDWARD *Riders of the Winds. These stories of famous long distance flights by airplane start with the courageous efforts of Hawker and Grieve to fly the Atlantic, and come down to the present time. Although all the factors are included such as the distance, speed, time, type of airplane and so forth making the book valuable for reference, the emphasis is placed upon the man who flies these machines and the various factors which made each flight an individual achievement, and reflecting the personality and courage of the men who planned and conquered space. These memorable achievements are part of the romance of our day. Using the latest of man's inventions these intrepid pilots have flown as Lindbergh did, alone from New York to Paris; as Commander Byrd and Floyd Bennett, across to the Pole; and back across the roof of the world as Captain Wilkins and Lieutenant Eielson in their flight from Alaska to Spitzbergen; the hundreds of miles of water between America and Honolulu have been crossed, a crew of four men have flown from California to Australia in an airplane; two men have left Los Angeles after lunch and arrived in New York before breakfast the next morning. This is only a partial list of the contents, which include Byrd's flight across the Atlantic, the extraordinary voyage of the PN 9-1, Miss Earhart's successful venture in the Friendship, and the East to West triumph of the Bremen. With twenty full-page color illustrations, drawings in black and white, and complete maps of each flight by the author. $2.50

JONES, PAUL

An Alphabet of Aviation. This book has been designed to appeal to everyone who would like a general knowledge of aviation, but particularly to the boy and girl who is not yet ready for a technical book, but who is eager to know the characteristics of airplanes and the primary parts of their construction and their uses.

The arrangement in alphabet form is purely arbitrary and used to simplify the explanations. All the usual forms of planes are depicted, showing the characteristics and differentiations in types so that the reader would know at once the difference between an amphibian and a seaplane, and there is a description of each part of the plane and an explanation of its use when in flight.

Printed throughout in three colors. More than sixty illustrations by Edward Shenton. Jacket in color. Royal octavo. $2.00

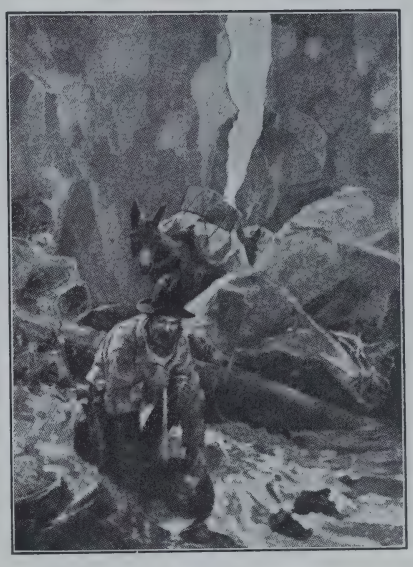
SABIN, EDWIN L.



*Gold! A tale of romantic adventure in the quest for Gold. The author traces the story of Gold on the American continent from the conquering of Mexico and Peru to the search for the El Dorado, the seeking of the mysterious Seven Golden Cities, the desperate adventures of '49, the discovery of gold on Pike's Peak and in the desert, and the rush to find gold at Deadwood Gulch and into the Klondike. The book is based upon facts but these facts are stranger than any fiction could make them. Here is a splendid saga of the courage and hardihood of men who risked their lives, sacrificed their possessions, and gave their lives in the most extraordinary crusades the world has ever witnessed. They were all types, from every corner of the country, rushing to make their fortunes, and out of these struggles have come stories, exciting, adventurous, and human. Four illustrations in color from paintings from Charles Hargens, Jr. Stained top. 4to. $2.50

Note.—Four chapters of this book are reprinted from FRONTIER DAYS.

MASSON, ELSIE

Folk Tales of Brittany. Brittany is the source of many folk tales of astonishing variety and unusual interest.

Madame Masson, who has lived most of her life in Brittany and whose husband was a famous savant of that district, has collected, over a period of years, a number of stories, some of which had never been written and many never translated. They are rich in the atmosphere of Brittany.

These stories have been edited for children by Amena Pendleton. The book is being made under the supervision of Thornton Oakley, one of America's leading illustrators. Mr. Oakley spent a great deal of time in Brittany collecting data and making the sketches for the pictures. They are thoroughly in accord with the spirit of the era. The Monster Men. Illustrated Jacket..... 2.00

What were those thirteen hulking brutes Professor Maxon had created in his laboratory? Soulless, malformed, brainless they were, nevertheless composed of flesh and blood and endowed with the spark of Life. Only Number 13 was the redeeming feature of this grewsome experiment for he was a perfect specimen. Unconsciously he was the cause of the most diabolical plan Professor Maxon had yet concocted—his beautiful daughter, Virginia, must marry this monster! Again Burroughs springs an unusual ending upon the unsuspecting reader.

FRIEND, OSCAR J.

The Mississippi Hawk. Illustrated Jacket..... 2.00

Anyone who knows the traditions and legends of the South can tell about "The Mississippi Hawk"—how, back in the 50's he was the idol of the belles of Dixie but just a wily scoundrel to their men folks. They called him the "Mississippi Hawk"—he deserved the sobriquet—because he was as merciless and swift and unerring as the bird from which he derived his name. The Mississippi Hawk! A polished, educated, talented, consummate villain, with nerves of steel and the luck of the Devil. Time and the myriad changes wrought by the passages of years enhance the picturesque, romantic atmosphere of this story. The events of a bygone day take on a new meaning and shine with a greater brilliancy in this master-piece of words. Truly a saga of the great Father of Waters.

Bloody Ground. Colored Jacket..... 2.00

How a Colorado kiss ravished from Sophia Eustace by one of the "Helling Mellers" caused the death of six strong men, crippled another for life, unmasked a theft, redeemed the soul of a low-down fiend and generally raised Cain until the arrival of "The Gentleman from Hell." Mr. Friend furnishes abundant local color, plenty of shooting and an exciting plot, replete with action and romance.

HOFFMAN, W. D.

Santone. Illustrated Jacket..... 2.00

In these days of speed readers demand mile-a-minute action and in "Santone" they get it. . . . Since Davy Crockett's time every Texas Ranger has made it a point to "get his man." The exciting contest between the "Unholy Alliance" of criminals and tin horn politicians and one gritty Texas Ranger features this tradition in a very dramatic climax. An unsolved murder mystery, a bold kidnapping, and a daylight holdup of an entire town, increase the tension.

The Saddle Wolf. Colored Jacket..... 2.00

MYSTERY...Who is the Saddle Wolf? What secret is hidden by the gray mask he wears? Who murdered Henry Underwood? Who kidnapped Mary Harrington? ACTION...Thirteen desperate, blood-thirsty, vengeful rustlers, captured, single-handed, by the Saddle Wolf. Thirty American cattlemen, led by the Saddle Wolf, defeat a hundred Mexican outlaws, cut-throats, border guards and gunmen who invade Lavaca Valley. Two girls are rescued at midnight from the clutches of an unscrupulous ranch owner and his hired gunmen, by the Saddle Wolf. He's a superman in action: against enormous odds, in a hundred unbelievable situations and exciting incidents that occur with startling rapidity, the Wolf invariably emerges victorious. ROMANCE...Two real, old fashioned love affairs delicately, adroitly intertwined throughout this story of the West that was. Two beautiful girls, two dare-devil men in a typical Western romance that is a beautiful inspiration in this age of sordidness.

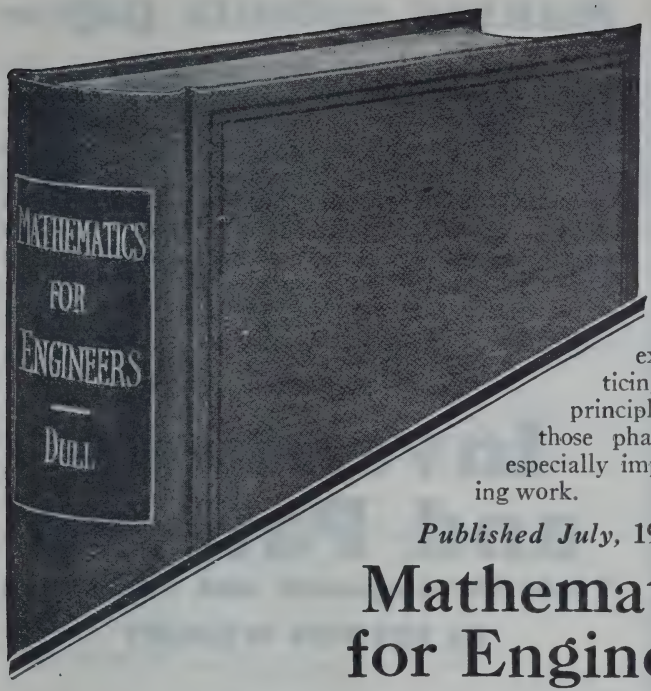
HARVARD BUSINESS REVIEW

(Published Quarterly: October, January, April and July)

$5.00 PER YEAR



For reference, brushing up or study.

Here is a mature explanation for practicing engineers of the principles and methods of those phases of mathematics especially important in engineering work.

Published July, 1926

Mathematics for Engineers

By RAYMOND W. DULL
Research Engineer, Link-Belt Company

780 pages, 5½ x 8, 686 illustrations

A complete treatise on engineering mathematics from arithmetical computations to partial and multiple integration.

A mature treatment for practicing engineers.

Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering says:

"This book is unusual in that it is an outgrowth of the author's engineering practice, more especially in consulting, and as a consequence it is written with the needs of graduate engineers in mind. Most texts on mathematics, whether the subject be elementary algebra or the advanced calculus, are intended primarily for mental discipline. This the immature student needs. On the other hand, the engineer in the office or factory needs a different kind of book, one not encumbered with mental exercises, but striking at the root of fundamentals and giving appropriate applications. To the reviewer it seems that the needs of the mature engineer have been met and in an adequate fashion."

Automotive Industries says:

"Engineers are often confronted with a mathematical problem whose solution requires more extensive reference work than can be found in the usual engineering handbooks and must therefore turn to text books with their obvious disadvantages for the man who is merely seeking the quickest solution to his problem. Mr. Dull's work should prove very useful to engineers because it has been prepared for the sole purpose of providing a quick and convenient reference."

Electrical World says:

"Here are all the rules and concepts that only dimly persist in memory set down in enduring print and ready at the turn of a page to metamorphose that wraith-like recollection into solid understanding."

Making patents pay—

Ours is the land of invention. It is said that more than three-fourths of the industrial wealth of the nation is founded directly or indirectly upon patent rights. The man who conceives an invention has before him a vision of rewards, but much must be done before that vision becomes a reality. There are patent rights to be secured, pitfalls to be avoided, business opportunities to be sought and handled in certain ways. It is sometimes a long, winding road the inventor must travel. To guide him on his way is the aim of this book.

Inventions and Patents

Their Development and Promotion

By MILTON WRIGHT

225 pages, 5½ x 8½

The book presents sound practical advice to inventors. The author in his editorial work with the Scientific American and as a patent attorney has had wide experience in the handling of patent rights. He tells the inventor how to choose a patent attorney; what patent office procedure is; what traps are set for patentees; how to estimate the value of a patent; how to determine the best method of disposing of the patent. He explains the legal relations of the inventor to his employer. He discusses the raising of capital; trademarks, and infringement. He presents 20 don'ts for inventors and lists questions which inventors usually ask. The book is disinterested and sensible and will prove valuable to every inventor.

During many years' experience in Naturalization work, Mr. Beck has been convinced that the prospective Citizen can be chiefly aided by the proper manner of selecting and arranging questions and answers, thereby enabling him to learn the principles of our Government the more quickly. This little book is published in the hope that it will do just that.

BURROW'S HANDY GUIDE TO EUROPE. Twenty-nine Maps and Plans. This book justifies its title by covering the whole of Europe and not merely a few countries which happen to be the more obvious and popular touring grounds. Every effort has been made not only to make the Guide as comprehensive as possible within the limitations of space imposed by a book which must necessarily be of handy pocket size, but also to ensure that it shall be as accurate and up-to-date as possible. It incorporates the effect of recent changes which throw many older guides hopelessly out of date on matters of importance to tourists. The inclusion of a large number of clear maps, not overloaded with small detail, but showing the places of primary interest to travelers, repairs a serious practical omission of which users of some older publications have been keenly conscious, while the equally clear street plans of London, Paris, Rome and Milan—cities of supreme tourist interest—are worth many pages of verbal directions as to how to find this or that place. 410 pages.....net, 3 50

BULFINCH'S AGE OF FABLE, OR BEAUTIES OF MYTHOLOGY. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. Nearly 200 illustrations.

LEADING FEATURES, AND OPINIONS CONCERNING THEM.

PRONUNCIATION OF PROPER NAMES.—All proper names are printed in black type, syllabified and accentuated. The editor in his preface says: "To know one you must know his name, especially in Mythology, where names constitute being."

"After years of experience I appreciate the value of the pronunciation of proper names in the body of the text. The time for the study is limited; it is impossible to require incessant use of dictionary. . . . I believe you have done much to secure correct spelling. . . . The illustrations in your edition are a valuable feature.

"The recognition of the mythology of Babylon, Assyria, and Phœnicia I consider timely."—Mary L. Hanna, Teacher of English, Central High School, Cleveland, Ohio.

BULFINCH'S AGE OF CHIVALRY, or KING ARTHUR AND HIS KNIGHTS. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. This New Edition, uniform with "The Age of Fable," has been thoroughly revised and a number of new chapters added. The numerous illustrations have been prepared with great care and considerable expense. As "The Age of Fable" superseded all former editions of that book, so this edition of "The Age of Chivalry" is far superior to any other work on the subject yet published.

Crown octavo, ... net 2 00

"No one can read this edition of 'The Age of Chivalry' without coming in contact with the best literature of the Arthurian Legends. While retaining the old, at the same time we have created a new work. The interest of these legends naturally centers about King Arthur and Queen Guinevere. In the case of Guinevere we have added a new section, and also enlarged the chapter that treats of Arthur and the passing of his kingdom. The names ranking next in interest are those of Launcelot and Elaine; here, too, we have written an additional section. At the close of the first part we have inserted a chapter on Mediæval Legends. St. George and Robin Hood attach to an importance scarcely surpassed by King Arthur himself. We have also drawn directly from Sir Thomas Mallory, especially in connection with the adventures of Sir Tor, Sir Pellenore, Sir Gawain, Sir Launcelot, and Sir Galahad."

"A Third Part with seven additional chapters has been added, consisting largely of the writings of Ossian. Whatever may have been the origin of those strange books, they certainly embody more of the ancient spirit of Britain than any other similar work."

CHESS SACRIFICES AND TRAPS. By Alfred Emery. (With a note on the "New Ideas.") 12mo, cloth binding . . . . . net, 1 25

The first part of the work consists of a selection of traps from the Openings. As the author remarks in his preface, a number of well-known typical snares could not possibly be omitted, for, if as ancient, almost, as the game itself, they still trouble afresh each new generation of learners. As much new matter has been introduced, however, as was reasonably practicable.

In the second part of the book Middle Game sacrifices are illustrated from the splendid combinative play of Alekhine, Reti, Bogoljubow and other modern Masters, admittedly unequalled in this phase of Chess.

The third part of the book consists of Endings, in which also the idea of sacrifice predominates.

CHESS OF TO-DAY. By Alfred Emery (Author of "Chess Sacrifices and Traps," etc., etc.) 12mo, cloth . . . . . net, 1 25

Owing to the success and wide appreciation of Mr. Emery's former work, the publishers, anticipate a large demand for this new book, which contains a large selection of the best games of the best Masters. Mr. Emery grips that period of vivid and surprising interest, 1918–23, and in a concise, lucid, and masterly manner comments upon the games. His Introduction to the book should be read by all Chess players who are interested in the rise, progress, and influence of the ultra-modern school.

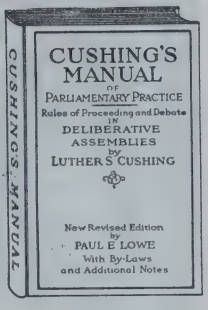
CUSHING'S MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

Prominent among the new features presented in the revision of Cushing's Manual is a model form for the drafting of CONSTITUTIONS and BY-LAWS, which, with slight and appropriate modifications, may be made to apply to any character of deliberative body; and also an EXEMPLAR demonstrating the correct proceedings of a meeting in active operation.



Revised by PAUL E. LOWE

This standard manual, just revised, amplified and brought up to date, is preëminently the most complete, highly instructive, and thoroughly reliable guide, now available to the practical application of PARLIAMENTARY LAW, and for the orderly regulation of the proceedings in all legislative assemblies, meetings of societies, associations, corporation directories, clubs, and organizations of every character.

For the vast number of deliberative organizations already in existence in every state, county, large and small municipalities, and urban communities; as well as for the guidance of groups of American citizens, wherever located, who may have in contemplation the creation of organizations for the promotion of any object or cause whatsoever, the possession of a copy of this incomparable authority on every fundamental feature and essential detail of Parliamentary Practice, is of the most vital importance; and this is particularly true as referred to such members of organizations who are elected or appointed to act in official capacities. DAWSON, MARY. The Mary Dawson Game Book. In planning the home entertainments, which have become in this country such a delightful part of the social life of every community, there is nothing in which the hostess stands more frequently in need than good original games. The games of to-day are as diversified as those who assemble at parties, and this book covers every occasion. For the young, runabout games; for the sedate, question games and guessing contests; for boys and girls who will follow a college course in the near future, games with a college flavor; for tiny tots, games so simple that even a three-year-old can grasp them.

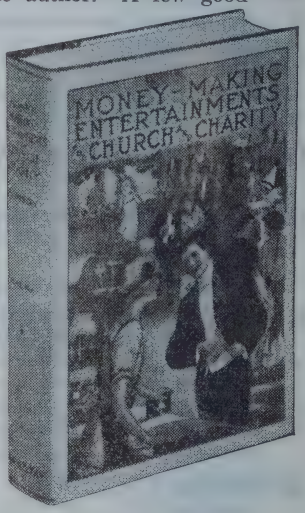
In this book practically all the pastimes and contests described are original inventions of the author. A few good old games which seem to have been forgotten in our day and generation, have been revived and included, being too good to be allowed to sink into oblivion. Large 12mo, cloth, 825 pages . . . Net, $2 00



DAWSON, MARY. Money-Making Entertainments for Church and Charity. Some of the noblest works of church and charity are maintained by men and women who are not of the moneyed class. Energy and devotion are their offering to the cause, and these most frequently take the form of arranging entertainments to draw in sums large or small. For all such affairs an original idea is essential and those who fail do so for lack of a novel plan. 305 pages, 12mo, cloth, ... Net, 1 25

Users of HUGO'S pocket dictionary will find that the compilers have successfully produced a volume which satisfied these conditions.

HUGO'S renowned system of imitated pronunciation has been employed throughout. This system does not necessitate the mastering of a complicated key; it is so simple that anyone can use it at once without the slightest difficulty and be confident of pronouncing correctly.

The Columbus Dispatch says:

"No matter how many cook books you have, the Home Dietitian has a place all its own.

"Years of experience in teaching, demonstrating, lecturing, housekeeping and rearing children have shown Mrs. Ives that most cook books have not met the need of the average housewife.

"The distinctive features of the Home Dietitian are the quantities of suggestions, recipes and information for everyday use and the handsome washable cover that makes the book so practical and yet so attractive for a gift. Two and one-half years were spent in compiling the book. It is rapidly gaining favor in every state and in many foreign countries."

A Home Economics Instructor says:

"I have taught cooking for sixteen years and have always been interested in any new cook book published—always hoping to find 'a simple American cook book' that I could recommend to students, as well as the progressive mothers that are eager to meet the demands of their family without spending too much time or money. At last I have found it,—the Home Dietitian answers every purpose."

A Bride says:

"I am delighted with The Home Dietitian. It has helped me to cook so much better and more economically that I am sure I saved the price of the book before I had used it a week. Please send me four more copies for friends."

A Radio Listener says:

"For almost a year we have enjoyed Mrs. Ives recipes and talks broadcasted from Station WAIU (Columbus, O.). Would you tell me how I could procure one of her cook books? We have tried so many of her recipes and find them so 'good, quick and easy.'"

A Mother says:

"The lists of suggestions, menus and articles on children's diet in The Home Dietitian make cooking a pleasure. It has taken the place of a whole cabinet full of clippings, booklets and out-of-date cook books I have saved. I believe it contains all of my old favorite recipes and ever so many new ones I often wanted to try, but never could find when I needed them. I am sure it will never lie on the shelf long enough to collect dust."

"Shot down in October of 1918. . . . It was not meant that Knight should fill one of those many graves in which dozens of his models lie today in Northern France. His destiny has been to resurrect for those who were not there the days when war in the air was young, and to bring before their eyes the testimony of one who flew and fought in the same immortal company as Richthofen, Guynemer, Hawker, Ball, McCudden, Boelcke, Mannock, Bishop, Springs, Brown, Immelmann, Richenbacher. "My System" has been publicly recommended by over 500 doctors in sixteen different countries, and advocated in many standard medical works.

A prominent U. S. Congressman recently consulted a leading specialist—professor in the Medical College of Johns Hopkins University—and after being charged $50.00 for a diagnosis, was told to "Buy a copy of Lieut. Müller's Book 'MY SYSTEM,' follow his directions and take no medicine." The congressman afterwards stated that the prescription was worth many times the cost. This story is vouched for by the Hon. A. Garment making, like bread making, originated in the home and later became a definite and prominent part of trade work, but, like bread making, will always remain as a desirable part of home work and of individual shop work.

This Volume covers many stages of dressmaking—the use of tissue-paper patterns, the designing, the cutting, the making, and the trimming of garments. To design, cut, and construct lovely, wearable garments is an achievement worthy of our best pride, so it behooves us to study and practice and actually learn how to make garments that will do us credit.

"QUEX." New York. With a Preface by Jeffery Farnol. Few men can have had more varied opportunities for studying life in great cities than "Quex." Recently he visited everyone and everything worth visiting in New York, and has recorded his impressions of American social and business life, politics, the theatre, hotels, night-clubs, and all that goes to make up the glamour and movement of that giant Metropolis. Arnold Bennett has said that "Quex" leaves nothing humdrum; everything he touches becomes romantic and enthralling. Jeffery Farnol, who has a wide knowledge of America, in his Introduction to this book, pays remarkable tribute to the photographic brain, the polished style, and the Ruskinesque choice of the right word of this brilliant writer. If you would understand New York today, you must read "Quex." Cloth . . net, 1 50

SUN-YAT-SEN. Memoirs of a Chinese Revolutionary. Translated from the Russian by A. Rothenstein. In this book Sun-Yat-Sen, first President of the Chinese Republic, gives his opinions of Chinese character and an account of the events which led to the Revolution in China, in which he played the part of leader. He attributes the Chinese want of enterprise to their lack of knowledge, and demonstrates that China, cut off from the rest of the world by her traditions, customs and laws, is in a state of stagnation. An appendix gives two of Sun-Yat-Sen's recent speeches, and in addition there is a note, added by the Russian editor, in which he makes some interesting observations on Sun-Yat-Sen's theories in the light of the Bolshevik Revolution. 8vo, cloth. . .net, $3 50

THE SECRET OF ANCIENT EGYPT. By Ernest G. Palmer. The author of this work amplifies the theory put forward by the late Mr. Marsham Adams that the Great Pyramid was an ancient temple of initiation, and was constructed in such a manner as to enshrine symbolically the esoteric truths carefully guarded by the hierophants of Ancient Egypt. The sacred book containing their ritual, the so-called "Book of the Dead," fulfilled a similar purpose, and the author shows that the book and the monument are complementary, and that the secrets of the one are unfolded by a study of the other. 12mo, cloth.....net,$1 50

Many interesting strange books, by different writers, purporting to number names have appeared, but I must warn the reader that they have no connection with this effort, which is based purely on the Law and not on imagination. This authoritative and famous work by the founder of modern occultism is generally regarded as indispensable to the study of the theory and practice of magic.

Mr. Waite's translation of Eliphas Lévi's MAGNUM OPUS appeared originally in 1895, has been long out of print, and copies, which are exceedingly scarce, are in continual demand among students and collectors. In the present re-issue the text has been revised throughout and elucidatory notes have been added, the materials being drawn mainly from other expository writings of the French Magus, scarcely any of which are available in English, and some of them at the present day are met with but rarely in France. They are: (1) THE RED BOOK. (2) DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE. (3) THE GOSPEL OF FREEDOM. (4) KEY TO THE GREAT MYSTERIES. (5) THE SCIENCE OF SPIRITS. (6) THE BOOK OF THE SAGES. (7) FABLES AND SYMBOLS. (8) THE SORCERER OF MEUDON. (9) PARADOXES OF THE HIGHEST SCIENCE. (10) THE GATES OF THE FUTURE. (11) THE HOLY KINGDOM. (12) THE GREATER KEYS. The subject is rich in romantic interest and is calculated to make a very wide appeal. The illustrations form an important feature of the book, being drawn from authentic examples by a skilled artist, and reproduced with exceptional care and accuracy.

DOLLARS WANT ME. The New Road to Opulence, a Soul Culture Lesson 50

This well conserves the purpose for which it was written. I wish to awaken my fellows to a sense of their present possessions and help them to a realization of the principle which controls Life's expression, so that, Living being to them "a fine art," they will cease to look for happiness in some far-off heaven, but will enter into the enjoyment of the one they create here and now. It is believed that this little monograph is the first utterance of the thought that each individual has the ability to so radiate his mental force that he can cause the dollar to feel him, love him, seek him, and thus draw, at will, all things needed for his unfoldment from the Universal Supply.

"It will help you to rise above the drudgery of enforced labor, and enable you to enter upon the manifold expressions of life with the joy and spontaneity of childhood."—Henry Harrison Brown.

HOW TO READ BLUEPRINTS. A Practical Manual for Reading Architects' Blueprints. By William S. Lowndes, Ph.B. Fully illustrated. 8vo, cloth.....net, 2 00

Realizing that there is a positive and widely spread demand for information regarding the art of reading and understanding blueprints, the author has endeavored to meet that demand in the preparation of this volume.

Ambitious carpenters and other building trades mechanics, however well trained in their respective trades, find their progress toward higher positions blocked by their inability to read working drawings or blueprints. These mechanics must take orders, therefore, from a building contractor or a foreman who has studied and acquired the knowledge of how to read blueprints.

This book will also be of use to contractors who are required to make estimates and to erect buildings from blueprints; also to subcontractors in the various trades, to building foremen, to mechanics desiring to become foremen, and to merchants and material men who furnish materials for use in a building.

ROPER'S NEW QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. First Aid to an Engineer or Fireman Undergoing an Examination for the Purpose of Procuring a License. Entirely rewritten and greatly enlarged by Rufus T. Strohm and James D. Purdy. 12mo, leatheroid binding, . . net, $2 00

Because of the increase of pressures used in steam plants and the consequent greater danger through ignorant or careless management, states and municipalities are adopting stringent laws and ordinances to govern the licensing of steam-plant employes. Yet, so far as is known, there is no authoritative and comprehensive statement of the qualifications that should be possessed by licensed stationary engineers. The nature and scope of the questions given by the examining boards are about the only indication of the knowledge that the successful applicant must possess.

Especial care has been taken to refer to the many forms of boiler-room and engine-room devices that form so important a part of the equipment of modern power plants, and with the action and uses of which the alert engineer should be familiar.

The use of the internal combustion engine for the propulsion of vessels has necessitated the addition of a new section relating to the principles of prime mover, with especial emphasis on the marine Diesel engine.

MAGIC.

GOOD, ARTHUR. Magical Experiments, or Science in Play. Illustrated and Explained. A Book for Young and Old. By Arthur Good. A Series of 200 Amusing, Popular, Scientific Experiments Meant for the Recreation of Old and Young. 165 Fine Illustrations.

Square 12mo, gilt back and side, ... $1 50

Many of these are simple pastimes, others possess a really scientific character, while the whole of these experiments may be performed without any special apparatus whatever. To give an idea of the endless variety of the work, we quote a few problems: A Rolling Body Goes Uphill, Foucault's Pendulum, The Egg in Salt Water, How to Make a Banana Peel Itself, Wine Changed to Water, The Plate on the Point of a Needle, How to Pierce a Nickel with a Needle, The Revolving Siphon, The Miniature Steamship, The Bottle Cannon, The Waltzing Egg, The Water Pendulum, In Water but not Wet, The Magic Ball, etc., etc. This entertaining book, written in language that every one can understand, gives the best answer to the so often repeated question, "What shall we do to-night?"

HOFFMANN, PROF. Modern Magic. A Practical Treatise on the Art of Conjuring. By Professor Hoffmann. With 318 Illustrations; 563 pages. With an Appendix containing explanations of many of the best known specialties of Maskelyne and Cooke. A handsome and substantial book, containing 300 tricks. Large 12mo, bound in cloth, . 2 00

Is a treatise, and a very practical one, on the art of conjuring, in its various and bewildering departments, some of which require special apparatus, most of which require that dexterity known as sleight-of-hand. There are, for example, card tricks which can be played with ordinary cards and without sleight-of-hand, and others again which demand special apparatus. There are coin tricks, tricks with watches, rings, handkerchiefs, dominoes, dice, etc.

The tricks are clearly and comprehensively explained by diagrams and illustrations when necessary. This book will afford an inexhaustible fund of amusement in a family where the young people are fond of games and are quick in acquiring these things. The explanations are given most comprehensively, and cover an immense field; besides, the book is filled with illustrations demonstrating the easiest way to accomplish these feats of legerdemain, magic, etc.

There is a vast difference between telling how a trick is done and teaching how to do it. This is the only book that teaches how to do it.

FAMOUS COLONIAL HOUSES. By Paul M. Hollister. Illustrated with twelve full page colored plates in full color by James Preston. With an introduction by Julian Street. Quarto, cloth, boxed..... net, 5 00

"We should all see these houses, or if we cannot see them, we should know them as some of them are made known to us in this book. Our land is a better land for having them within its borders, and we will be better citizens for an acquaintance with them."—Julian Street.

" 'Famous Colonial Houses,' as a book on American architecture, is a most delightful anthology of anecdote.

"No one can appreciate to the full a Greek temple or a Gothic cathedral without a knowledge of hellenistic philosophy or of mediæval religion, and this volume pictures in words and colors the customs and characteristics for fifty years before and after the Revolution, when the twelve 'colonial' houses enjoyed their days of romance. In place of an essay on the climatic and social influences of America on Georgian architecture, it is a personal narrative of our country's forebears.

"There is no pedantry in Mr. Hollister's treatment of the subject. The architecture is not dissected by the archæologist, the history is not stifled by the chronologist, the legends are not denuded by the iconoclast; instead, the personality of the mansions and of their occupants is presented briefly and gayly. Washington, Jefferson, and Carroll; Madame Jumel, 'Lord' Dexter, and Madame Lalaurie, great and small, are once more alive and human; their homes are no longer museum pieces and their epoch is brought into relation with our own."—The House Beautiful.

AMERICAN BOY'S WORKSHOP, THE. By Clarence B. Kelland. For every boy who succeeded in making something he wanted there are a hundred who failed—and they failed because they didn't know just how to go at it. If they had a hint or a few suggestions as to plan, or a drawing to follow, they would have built their fishpoles or boats or desks. And that is one of the reasons for publishing this book—to give the boy the help he must have to make what he needs.

Fully illustrated. Large 12mo, cloth, . net, $2 00

In the preparation of this book the editor has secured the best men to write the various departments. For instance, "Things for Boys to Make" has been prepared by John L. Dougheny, who edits the "For Boys to Make" column of The American Boy Magazine. The chapter on "Signalling" was written by Lieutenant W. S. Anderson of the United States Navy. The chapter on "Small Furbearers and How to Catch Them" was written by George J. Thiesen, a noted trapper and woodsman. The chapter on the Bow and Arrow is by A. Hyatt Verrill, and so on, making a complete handybook for boys, not by one man, but many men of wide experience, each writing about the subject he knows best.

SAUNDERS, MARSHALL. Author of "Beautiful Joe."

JIMMY GOLDCOAST. The Story of a Monkey and His Friends. 12mo, cloth ..... net, $1 50

At last Marshall Saunders has given us another book. Not since "Beautiful Joe" has she herself felt so keenly the spirit of a book as in this latest and most appealing story of a family, told by their pet monkey.

Quite as prominent as "Jimmy Goldcoast" are Nonnie, the beloved darky servant, and Polly, her parrot. These three all play an important part in the rescue from waywardness of a certain young man, who finally becomes a great power for good.

Those who know Miss Saunders' many books, need no reminder of the indefinable charm and fascination of her stories. Insight, tenderness, and humor have never been combined in quite the manner of which she is capable. In the beginning, her books capture the reader, heart and mind, teaching him a hundred things he would otherwise never know, and going on to delight him with pictures so real that he feels certain he must have "passed this way before." That her stories are now read all over the world, literally by the millions, and in almost every language, should be a great gratification to all who have loved her work these many years.

It merely says, "dear children, history is the most fascinating and entertaining and instructive of arts." It tells us of men of great courage and people who knew how to die for their convictions. It shows us how very difficult it is to achieve anything in this world and how we have to work for everything we want to accomplish. LITTLE ROB ROBIN

Every feathered songster that fills the woods with his music and cheerful twitter will be found in "The Birdland Fairy Series," which Miss Warren is bringing out to delight afresh her vast army of childish admirers.

In "Little Rob Robin" every chapter is a glimpse into a world of new delights. Such marvelous characters!—Rob and his sisters, Twitter and Fluffy, Dr. Wren and his amazing prescriptions for sick birds, talkative Miss Pecketty Pewee, funny Mrs. Wagtail, and a host of others equally amusing.

And Birdland is a place where such surprising things happen—the Woodpeckers' Surprise Party, for instance, the mishaps that befell disobedient little Rob, and many other astonishing and amusing things.

LITTLE CHICK CHICKADEE

What little reader can fail to find intense delight in "Little Chick Chickadee"? The visit to the Rabbit family—the clever ruse by which the birds gained admittance—the advent of such wholly charming characters as the Snowflake Sisters, the Nuthatch family, and the villain of the play, Mr. Cunning Crow—these are links in a chain of happenings that hold the reader spellbound by their very originality and freshness.

Each volume illustrated with eight full-page colored plates, artistically bound in cloth with colored inlay in cover. 12mo, gilt top, each . . . net, $1 00

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. New Illustrated Natural History. With many Hundred Illustrations from Designs by Wolf, Zwecker, Weir, Coleman, Harvey, and other Artists, engraved by the Brothers Dalziel. Stamped in Gold and Colors. Large 8vo, cloth, $4 00

Wood's "Natural History," with its charming descriptions and delightful anecdotes of all animals, both domestic and wild, is the greatest authority in the land. It gives, minutely and in the simplest language, the habits, haunts, diseases, and peculiarities of the entire animal kingdom. The descriptions of the animals are truthful and interesting. Their portraits, as shown in the hundreds of illustrations, are accurately drawn, and make us realize the variety and beauty of earth's creatures. The life and habits of animals, reptiles, birds, etc., are of equal interest to old and young.

THE STORY OF CONFUCIUS HIS LIFE AND SAYINGS
Edited with a Preface by Brian Brown

Illustrated, large 12mo cloth . . . net 2.50
These two volumes in an oriental box net 5.00

Into these two volumes Brian Brown has condensed everything that is reliably known about these two fascinating personalities whose teachings are now the religious guides of over one-third of the human beings on the globe. He tells the fascinating story of the prophecy made to the king who was the Buddha's father—of how the king struggled to prevent its fulfillment and make his son a warrior-ruler like himself—and of how a tottering old beggar, a leper, a corpse and a hermit made Buddha a wandering holy man in spite of the royal will.
He tells how Confucius, also of noble family, for a time held high public offices, but gave them up to become a wandering teacher followed by a few disciples—little dreaming that his precepts would, centuries later, become the moral guide for the whole Chinese Empire, and would influence strongly the ethics of the whole civilized world.

Written with Clarity and Simplicity

The Story of Buddha and Confucius is one of the richest, fullest books that has so far in recent times come out of the Orient. It has its philosophical background deep in the historical literature of India and China—is immersed in the ancient beauty of philosophy and poetry. It is written with a fine clarity and simplicity, an austere and penetrating understanding. It presents in a fascinating manner the life-story of two of the most renowned sons of China and of "Mother India"—Buddha and Confucius—in the light of rare biography. It brings the spiritual gist that only the East can offer us in a gracious and beautiful way. —MARY SIEGRIST, Chairman, Women's Press Club.

Human and Interesting

What Will Durant has done for Western philosophy the "Story of Buddha and Buddhism" and the "Story of Confucius" has done for Far Eastern philosophy. The books contain the teachings of these masters in their own words, as well as a human and interesting account of their lives. The man in the street today can find in these two books much that he can use in his everyday life.—DR. HARI G. GOVIL, Editor, The Oriental Magazine.

George Washington

By SHELBY LITTLE

EARLIER biographers of Washington, it has been said, found him a paradox and left him a paragon. They were writing not of Washington but of a great American legend, not of the hidden depths and secret places of the man but in the clear light of inevitable greatness. It has remained for Shelby Little to tell the straightforward narrative of his life, not as eulogist and not as psychoanalyst, but as an unprejudiced and impartial observer, assembling out of the great mass of authenticated facts at hand (his own letters, diaries, journals, account books, and those of his contemporaries) all that is illuminating and significant. In spite of omissions in the record, and these would be inevitable were the subject of our own time, we come close to seeing the man as he was. Though this Washington is not the Washington of legend, neither is he a Washington of diminished stature, but he takes on, as the story unfolds, the hues of life itself.

Beginning with the death of his father, the story soon brings us to the time when Washington found himself unexpectedly master of Mount Vernon, a man of property and of responsibilities. From this point on we follow his career in close detail, from his first official venture into the wilderness to treat with the Indians and the French, through his whole harassing experience during the Revolution, during the Constitutional Congress, and his Presidency, down to those last days of honor and glory at Mount Vernon.

From first to last the author maintains an impersonal detachment, but even the subsidiary characters stand forth as three-dimensional figures and the whole period becomes actual and understandable. The record is set down dispassionately, without praise and without blame, leaving conclusions as a matter for the individual reader, which each will color according to his manner of thought. "So at least," says Shelby Little, in an author's preface, "it is in life, and my aim has been to reconstruct a life."

Because it so closely approaches reality, the narrative is of compelling interest throughout. The biography is an achievement of the first order.

A special edition, limited to 125 numbered copies, signed by the author, printed on hand-made paper, and specially bound, $15.00.

The Long Day in Court

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THROUGH his experience with crime surveys in New York, Ohio, Missouri and Illinois, Mr. Moley, Professor of Public Law at Columbia University, has qualified himself to speak with more authority than any other American on the subject of law enforcement and law procedure. This book centers about the court proceedings involved in criminal cases—the criminal courts, the judges, and trial procedure, and matters having to do with insanity, juvenile court, probation, and parole. He considers the question whether present methods of trial and sentencing are in keeping with what we now know about crimes and their remedies; the old methods of judicial trials as applied to criminal responsibility are obsolete. Mr. Moley has pertinent suggestions to make in answer to the natural and necessary query: what is to take the place of trial by jury in criminal cases?

An interesting and enlightening chapter entitled "Trial by City Desk," shows brilliantly the increasing power of the press in affecting the disposition of criminal cases: particularly, as Mr. Moley shows, have the "tabloids" inserted a new factor into the criminal courts.

Politics and Criminal Prosecution

By RAYMOND MOLEY

MR. MOLEY, in this book, points out the amazing power that is now in the hands of the prosecutor, and shows him to be virtually the dictator of criminal procedure. He points out, also, the strong persuasive rôle that politics has played in many cases, and how the clever prosecutor has found many means of diverting the wheels of justice.

"As devastating an arraignment of justice, so called, as one could expect to read. His impartiality, his understatement, his lack of dogmatism, his unwillingness to take sides, merely intensify the shortcomings of the system he describes. . . . No one can read this book, and not be convinced that Professor Moley has proved his point beyond the shadow of a doubt."—New York Times. $2.50

The Man a Woman Marries

By VICTOR COX PEDERSEN, A. M., M. D., F. A. C. S.

DR. PEDERSEN is a famous New York physician who writes out of the wisdom of a long and successful professional experience with problems of sex. He has written this book in order to impart information of a scientific and social nature to those who need it most, the man and woman who are contemplating matrimony. He defends warmly the institution of normal marriage, and points out the necessity of accurate information, sensibly and simply presented. In order fully to convey the obligation of the man in marriage, he has given a swift and readable survey of the facts of sex, as revealed in human biology, physiology and history. He shows in straightforward, understandable, unmistakable language that the monogamous relation is one which has developed after the experimentation of centuries, and that the institution of the home is the foundation of stable society.

The Quest for Certainty

A Study of the Relation of Knowledge and Action

By JOHN DEWEY

IN this important book, Professor Dewey gives the most complete development he has yet made of his experimental theory of thinking and knowledge. This development, while containing the foundations of an experimental logical method, is not written, however, from the point of view of technical logic. It begins with the social causes which historically started philosophy on the track of placing purely theoretical knowledge on a level superior to knowledge which involves practical doing and making. The discussion then shows how the scientific revolution begun in the seventeenth century and logically brought to a climax in the new physics of recent years requires a radically different conception of thinking, knowing, and their relation to doing. The book concludes with a discussion of the bearing of this change upon the future of philosophy, religion, and the social sciences generally, holding that the tendency is to unite science and human well-being in a new form of scientific humanism based on the interaction of theory and practice, understanding and action.

"The Quest for Certainty" is based on the Gifford Lectures, given by Professor Dewey at the University of Edinburgh in the spring of 1929. He is the third lecturer from the United States, the others being James and Royce, on the Gifford Foundation, doubtless the most distinguished lectureship in the world. It was at Edinburgh that William James first presented perhaps his finest book, "Varieties of Religious Experience." "The Quest for Certainty" is of equal importance in the brilliant career of the foremost American philosopher of our time.

A Frontier Mother

By OWEN P. WHITE, AUTHOR OF "THEM WAS THE DAYS," ETC.

FROM teaching the classics in a select young ladies' seminary in the East, Mr. White's mother went in the sixties to the roaring frontier of Colorado. Dr. White, amateur cattle man and former army doctor, seized the chance to acquire a wife who shared his enthusiasm for classical literature, and took her to his ranch, where she learned, among other things, how to shoot Indians. But the Indians got the cattle, and she soon followed her husband to El Paso, where he had taken a position in the customs service. With a two months' old baby, the trip was not easy, but she endured it, and she found strength to endure cheerfully in the next few years all the discomforts and dangers of the frontier at its worst—after El Paso, in New Mexico and Arizona. Once she and her two boys escaped death at the hands of marauding Apaches only by a miraculous intervention; gunmen did their work in a saloon in El Paso on the other side of her twelve-inch adobe wall; her husband was in constant danger from smugglers; and her children were beset by tarantulas, rattlesnakes, and malaria.

Eventually, civilization caught up to them, and she was able to take up the old ways as if she had never let them go. Her story, told simply and straightforwardly by her son, is a little classic and a lasting tribute to the gallantry and fortitude of the frontier woman.

Jefferson Davis: His Rise and Fall

By ALLEN TATE

JEFFERSON DAVIS, the most neglected man of his stature in American history, is depicted against the colorful and complex background of his times. He was first a traitor in Northern eyes and a failure in Southern, and at last the martyr of the South, whom no one intimately understood. His career as President of the Confederacy unfolds like a drama—a tragedy, in which great virtue and powers are steadily undermined by one insidious fault of character, not lust of power, as his Southern opponents thought, but an overweening personal pride, an extravagant faith in the rightness of his decisions once they were formed. The way this defect parallels the downfall of the Confederacy and his failure to conciliate opposition and to produce harmony are woven into the pattern of social life in the South during the Civil War. Among the colorful features of the book are scenes in the war hospitals, dances in Richmond homes, General Stuart playing charades, and the President quelling a bread riot from the back of a wagon.

Stonewall Jackson: The Good Soldier

By CHARLES COLEMAN SELLERS

By THOMAS BOYD

Abraham Lincoln: The Politician and the Man

By RAYMOND HOLDEN

LINCOLN began his public career in Illinois as a small-town politician, a "regular" in the party ranks. He was ambitious, he was well-liked, he was intelligent, he was capable, and he could be depended upon. Consequently, he got ahead; he became a leader in the party councils. But, unless the investigator scans his early record with hero-worshipping eyes, it is difficult to find in it vision and public spirit of a high order. These came later, when he was tried by adversity and a national crisis. Mr. Holden has not attempted to topple a great man from the eminence he deserves, but, on the basis of exhaustive and unprejudiced research, to show Lincoln as he began, as he developed, and as he achieved—to ignore the Lincoln myth and to picture his gradual ascent to nobility and wisdom. It is not ignoble, it is only human, to contend in oneself against littleness and self-interest; greatness comes—and so it was with Lincoln—through meeting a stupendous test squarely and emerging triumphant.

Publication on September 20th Illustrated, $3.50

Randolph of Roanoke: A Political Fantastic

By GERALD W. JOHNSON

Lord Timothy Dexter of Newburyport, Mass.

The Shepherd of Jerusalem: The Story of Reuel the Strong

By MORRIS H. TURK, D. D.

WHO were the shepherds who watched by night on the Galilean hills, the men to whom the angels came to tell the news of Bethlehem? Why were they chosen to receive the visitation of the angelic host?

Perhaps these questions impelled Dr. Turk to write his simple, moving story of Reuel the shepherd. The young Benjamite wondered at the fate which kept him from the Sanhedrin and tied him to a humble sheepfold. He belittled the great strength acquired from his lowly tasks, and he did not know the bravery and tenderness and reverence for the unseen that he had gained. But when he saved the woman by the Jaffa gate, when his wondering eyes beheld the heavenly apparition, and when at last in the City of David he stood before the babe in the manger, his soul overflowed, and he thanked the God of his fathers that he was called to be a shepherd.

Publication on August 23rd $1.00

The Grande Turke: Suleyman the Magnificent

By FAIRFAX DOWNEY

"THIS life of Suleyman the Magnificent is a gorgeous tale of blood and cruelty, of heroism and treachery, of the barbaric magnificence of an empire built and maintained by the sword. As a story, it is fascinating as any novel you are likely to find. As a series of gorgeous pictures we have read nothing in a long time that equals it."—The Outlook. $4.00

Torchlight Parade: Our Presidential Pageant

By SHERWIN LAWRENCE COOK

"A BOOK that fills a big gap. . . . Mr. Cook's book is graphic and dramatic, thoroughly readable, yet it neglects little in the history of our presidential elections that is important. . . . It is anything but a soothing book, but no one who prides himself upon his knowledge of American political life can afford to neglect it."—Boston Post. Illustrated. $3.75

Outlaw Trails: A Yankee Hobo Soldier of the Queen

By GEORGE WITTEN

"AT ten, the author of this book ran away from home. At seventeen, at the close of the Boer War, he was discharged from the Imperial Light Horse with the rank of the scout. This is the story of those seven years of adventuring, and it's a more exciting tale than ninety per cent of the thrillers we've read in the past year."—The Outlook. $2.50

Recollections of an Immigrant

By ANDREAS UELAND

BORN in Norway seventy-six years ago, Andreas Ueland went to Minnesota at the age of eighteen; at twenty-four he was admitted to the Bar, and his career since then is an extraordinary record of accomplishment.

"The book is the expression of a personality that has been ripened and mellowed not only by much and eager living, but by reading and reflection."—American-Scandinavian Review. Illustrated. $3.00

The New German Republic

By ELMER LUEHR

WITH the ever-increasing interest in post-war Germany, this comprehensive and authoritative work, which represents the author's exhaustive study of conditions abroad, should be warmly welcomed. Mr. Luehr not only has consulted all books in German and English that concern the recent history of Germany, but he has fortunately been able to call upon his acquaintance and conversation with the dramatis personæ of the events involved.

In order to make clear the causes of the German collapse in 1918, the author gives the history of the German parties during the war; he makes a graphic tale of the conclusion of the armistice and shows the German emissaries returning, amazed, to find their country in revolution. From this point on, Mr. Luehr traces with admirable care the development of republican Germany through its formative period up to the present time, and explains the effect of the new conditions on all phases of German life and industry.

Autobiography and Memoirs of Benjamin Robert Haydon

Edited by ALEXANDER P. D. PENROSE, M. A.

ABOUT a hundred years ago, Benjamin Robert Haydon enjoyed considerable notoriety owing to his vast paintings of historical subjects and to the controversies in which he was perpetually engaged. The memoirs he left behind him have been acclaimed as one of the most remarkable specimens of vigorous self-revelation in any language, and as a vivid picture of men and events during the first half of the nineteenth century in England.

In this edition the whole of the "Autobiography" and as much of the "Journals" as are of interest today, together with a few additional letters from other sources, are, for the first time, collected into one volume.

Publication on August 23rd $5.00

Paramount Poems

By MORRIS BISHOP, Author of "A GALLERY OF ECCENTRICS," ETC.

"If it isn't a PARAMOUNT, it isn't a poem."—Morris Bishop.

IN "Short Turns and Encores" of The Saturday Evening Post, the humorous verses of Morris Bishop appear as often perhaps as those of any other contributor. Many have been assiduously clipped out and passed from hand to hand; together with some that were printed elsewhere, they are now first published in book form. And a book of delights it is, worthy of the tradition of Gilbert and the other great muses of laughter.

Mr. Bishop has an amazing facility in rhyme and a considerable gift for the happy and surprising turn of phrase. Viewing the follies of the day with a tolerant eye, he satirizes them genially, in high-spirited fashion.

A riotous book which will be kept close at hand for quotation, and for re-reading. Illustrated by Alison Mason Kingsbury.

Starved Fields

By E. INGLIS JONES

A NOVEL of Wales, which tells the story of Owen Morgan, heir to the most fertile estate in his county, a hard-riding, hard-drinking, free-loving youth who marries in haste an English wife, cold, aristocratic, and, as it proves, tyrannical. He repents at leisure, and, in doing his pathetic best to please a woman he does not understand, loses all confidence in himself. His land suffers too, until he reverts to type and takes as his mistress a girl who not only undersands him but who knows the stock of which he sprang and the land on which he was bred.

"A swelling rhythm as indefinable as that of the bulky hills of the country dominates this remarkable novel."—Country Life (London).

Visitors to Hugo

By ALICE GRANT ROSMAN

HUGO, to his great disgust, is a pampered invalid recovering from a serious accident that may leave him permanently crippled. With his university career over, his father apparently estranged, his visitors primed to be cheerful but non-committal, he has reason for gloom. Until Bunny appears. For Bunny knows what it's all about. She doesn't treat him as if he were Dresden china. She tells him things. And she helps him to become involved in a plot that is no less exciting because he, the center of the intrigue, is chained to his bed. The two of them, who defy the stuffy world inhabited by Parents, plant the seeds of their plot well and bring happiness in the end to several others besides, of course, themselves.

The same rare quality that made "The Window" a best seller of 1928 appears again in Miss Rosman's new novel—the same charm, the same freshness, the same humorous touch, a new group of equally attractive characters, and a new plot as tender, as gay, as moving as the one that won for this young author many thousands of delighted readers. And "Visitors to Hugo" marks a great advance over "The Window" in striking originality of conception.

Night Club

By KATHARINE BRUSH, AUTHOR OF "GLITTER" AND "LITTLE SINS."

IT has been said of the stories of Katharine Brush that "they begin where less penetrating observers leave off." The extraordinary acclaim given them is undoubtedly due to the fact that she writes, not "short stories" in the conventional sense, but novels in little. The vivid completeness of her characters gives them the reality of slices of life. Ordinarily, American readers absorb magazine fiction with as little effort and as little attention as they breathe the air, but when "Night Club" appeared it shocked them into the realization that here was a new voice and a new manner, at once fresh and big and memorable. Rarely has a story made so profound an impression, yet in this volume there are ten others which serve to deepen it. Of "Seven Blocks Apart," which appeared in the O'Brien collection of 1928, Harry Hansen said, "Reveals this author's acute observation of everyday life in a great city and has life flowing through it irresistibly." Among the others, one of the most notable, "The Mother Has the Custody—," seven magazine editors wanted to publish—and not one had the courage.

Publication on July 26th $2.00

The Strangler

By MOLLY THYNNE

A PASSENGER on the Enriqueta, Liverpool-bound from South America, is found lying strangled at the foot of one of the companion-ways, and Detective-Inspector Shand, who happens to be on board, completely fails to discover the criminal. The scene changes to London, to a fashionable flat which Lady Dalberry, also a passenger on the ship, shares with her niece, who on attaining her majority is to come into possession of a great fortune. An Argentine friend of Lady Dalberry's, who occupies an adjacent flat, presses his attentions on the girl, but with the help of old friends she is able to repulse him finally and to assist in clearing up two other unexplained murders in London.

Molly Thynne is able not only to tell a tale of tense expectation throughout, but also to write dialogue that is amusing and lively and to create real and attractive characters. "The Strangler" is bound to win for her the enthusiasm of American readers.

Chimney Corner Poems

Selected by VERONICA S. HUTCHINSON

Illustrations by LOIS LENSKI

THE need has long been felt for a collection of poems for very little children which would not be beyond the understanding and interest of the smallest readers. This new anthology supplies such a need, and it contains over a hundred poems carefully selected, and including many from traditional sources, among them such old favorites as "The Night Before Christmas," "Twenty Froggies Went to School," and such classics as Blake's "Reeds of Innocence" and Thompson's "Ex Ore Infantium," as well as many from the work of modern poets, among them James Stephens, Walter de la Mare, Rose Fyleman, Dorothy Aldis, and Margaret Widdemer. Miss Lenski has illustrated the volume lavishly with nearly a hundred black and white drawings and six in full color.

Publication on September 6th $2.50

Jane's Father

By DOROTHY ALDIS

IN "Everything and Anything" and "Here, There, and Everywhere," Dorothy Aldis proved her unique ability to understand and illuminate the minds of little children and to express in exquisitely simple verse the fancies they conceive. In "Jane's Father," her first book in prose, she has written, with that same insight into the child mind, a hilarious record of life in Jane's family. Jane is six and the family consists of Jane's father, Jane's mother, the twins, the twins' nurse, cook, and William, a laconic man-of-all-work who shares Jane's family's problems. And these are many, but Jane's father is the worst problem of all. He likes his "eggs-in-a-mess," he says his words wrong, he has a wobbly head, he forgets to get his hair cut—until Jane and Jane's mother sometimes wonder if they will ever be able to cure him. In the end he triumphs, to cure them of curing him. The story is fully illustrated with delicious drawings in black and white by Margaret Freeman.

Publication on September 6th $2.00

Everything and Anything

By DOROTHY ALDIS

"THEY (the poems of Mrs. Aldis) seem to have sprung up spontaneously out of a happy American childhood and an intimate, informal and sustained relationship with real children living anywhere. . . . A rare achievement."—Anne Carroll Moore in the New York Herald Tribune.

Drawings by Helen D. Jameson $2.00

Here, There and Everywhere

By DOROTHY ALDIS

"IT is like dusting a flower to review a pair of books like these! The two came a year or more apart, but there is no prentice work in the first and no slowing-up in the second. The poems are as fresh and gay as a buttercup in the sun, and with a quaint child-like humor like dew upon them."—Poetry: A Magazine of Verse.

Drawings by Marjorie Flack. $2.00

"Everything and Anything" and "Here, There and Everywhere" boxed together, $4.00

A Child's Thought of God

Compiled by ESTHER A. GILLESPIE and THOMAS CURTIS CLARK

"THIS collection of religious poems is good literature in the first place. Nothing tawdry or cheap is here. The best is none too good for the children. From the Brownings, Kingsley and Coleridge to Mary Mapes Dodge and Edwin Markham it is good poetry."—Boston Transcript.

Illustrated. $1.50

The Pale Mountains

By CARL FELIX WOLFF

"THESE twelve folk tales from the Dolomites . . . have unusual qualities of beauty and fineness of imagination and reflect the grandeur of their environment."—New York Times. Translation by Francesca La Monte.

Statesmen of the War

By WILLIAM MARTIN

"THIS is an extraordinary book. Brilliantly epigrammatic, it is neither smart nor melodramatic. For those who know little of Europe of the twentieth century, it may be startling; for those who know much of pre-war and post-war politics it offers challenging and suggestive interpretations of the statesmen who loomed large in the eyes of their contemporaries a decade ago."—New York Herald Tribune. Illustrated. $5.00

The Continental Cook Book—1001 Recipes

THE CANONICAL MARRIAGE REGISTER

Prepared in accordance with the present canon. As the Marriage Register must frequently be carried to the place of marriage, it is more convenient to have it separate from the Parish Register, for which purpose the Marriage entries are included only in the two smaller sizes of the Canonical Parish Register. This Marriage Register is therefore required in connection with Editions B and C of the former.

Edition AA.

Page 8 x 10 inches (half the standard size). Total pages 212, with space for 200 entries and index pages.

Half leather, 7.00. Carriage additional.

[N. B—Marriage Register AA matches Parish Register AA in size, but is not required for that edition. It is made in this form (half the standard size of page) for those who prefer a small, and therefore light weight, book for use with the larger Parish Registers; but the average ratio of entries will necessitate two or three volumes of this edition during the probable lifetime of Parish Register B.]

Edition B.

Page 16 x 10 inches, matching Parish Registers B and C. Total pages 218 with space for 400 entries and index pages.

Half leather, 12.00. Carriage additional.

Adiós!

A dramatic historical romance of Los Angeles and Southern California in the Fighting Fifties—the end of an era. Adiós! is significant as the first novel of this early period of Southern California. Many of the characters are based on famous and notorious figures of the day. "A tale of love and adventure . . . lively, colorful . . . with plenty of spirit." —N. Y. Times. 12*mo*, 352 pages, $2.50.

BELL, Bernard Iddings

Common Sense in Education

A book for parents who are confused by the conflicting arguments of the old-fashioned learn-by-rote pedagogues and the advocates of the newer play-and-freedom methods with their catchword, "let the young minds expand." Dr. Bell, writing expressly for parents rather than for fellow teachers, goes to the roots of the matter and applies the common sense test to every aspect. "What education needs most," says Dr. Bell, "is criticism by intelligent fathers and mothers. Without such criticism there is almost certain to be a deep divorcement between learning and life." Large 12*mo*, $2.50.

Each of the many volumes under the general editorship of Professor G. Elliot Smith, F.R.S., will be written in a lively and lucid narrative style by a scholar who is master of his subject.

BENDA, Julien

The Treason of the Intellectuals

Translated from the French by Richard Aldington.

The contention of this book is that the intellectual leaders are arousing and strengthening the political and national passions of the mob instead of restraining and directing those passions as their predecessors did. The author supports his thesis by citing many cases in the world war and in previous European disturbances. A vital, searching book, all the more valuable today because of the author's remarkable picture of what the world might become if these political passions were transmuted into humanitarian, instead of factional interests. Large 12*mo*, $2.50.

The Shakespeare Songs

Introduction by Walter De La Mare.

Strange as it may seem, there is no complete edition of the Shakespeare Songs now available. Here, for the first time, are all the songs from the plays. Those who love them will be glad to find them all together; those who have forgotten will rediscover their amazing loveliness. These enchanting lyrics are the happiest echo we have from the Elizabethan Age.

It is fitting that the first complete collection of Shakespeare's songs should have as editor one of the foremost of Elizabethan scholars; The Shakespeare Songs may be considered as a definitive edition. And no living poet is better fitted than Mr. de la Mare to introduce this volume to lovers of Shakespeare.

First edition will be limited and numbered. Not more than 500 copies; the volume will be an octavo, boxed. The Pocket Edition of The Shakespeare Songs will be unlimited. First Edition, octavo, $10.00. Pocket Edition, $1.50.

HOSIE, Lady Dorothea

A Lady of China

This book gives a true picture of the real China of today, as contrasted with the romantic portrayals of China of a generation ago. The author, an Englishwoman born and educated in China, has not only intimate, first-hand knowledge of her subject, but a fine perspective on Chinese life today compared to our western civilization. She knows the look of the people and the countryside, the modern aspects of Chinese art and literature. She has real friends among the educated Chinese; she grew up among them, visited their homes, travelled about their marvelous country. All this she has woven into a chronicle of modern China, full of amusing and pathetic human episodes. Lady Hosie loves and admires China, but her sympathy has not dulled her keen insight into conditions in her adopted country. Illustrated. Large 12*mo,* 352 pages, $3.50.

HUGHES, M. V.

†About England

"ABOUT ENGLAND is the most unconventional guide-book imaginable; the chapter heads are as unusual as those of the paragraphs in Fowler's 'Modern English Usage.' Read in this country, it would inspire anyone but an Anglophobe to take a boat directly; read in England—it is quite small enough to take along—it will open many an eye to many an unnoticed detail."—Mary Lamberton Becker in Saturday Review of Literature. Illustrated with 45 line drawings and frontispiece in color. Small 12*mo,* 376 pages, $2.50.

†George Washington—The Rebel and the Patriot—1762-1777. Vol. II.

†George Washington—The Human Being and the Hero—1732-1762. Vol. I.

"The Washington presented by Mr. Hughes can be accepted as the truest picture yet offered."—Worthington C. Ford in The Boston Herald. "The book takes an almost virgin field and plows it thoroughly, cultivates it intensely and brings forth much harvest. No one has delved so deeply and probed so patiently into this comparatively neglected period . . . Mr. Hughes has taken the youthful Washington, a fading myth, and made him a red-blooded, lusty, gusty human being for the first time."—Claude G. Bowers in The Nation. Fully illustrated. 5¾x8⅝, 590 pages, $5.00.

HUGON, Paul D.

"A careful, scientific study, which should do much toward awakening the nation."—The Yale Review. Charts, illustrations in line and half-tone. 5¾x8¾, 382 pages, $3.50.

Sleeveless Errand

A modern novel of sophisticated London life. "The prose is direct, strong and frank; the conversations seem particularly apt; there is no flinching in the face of the probable truth . . . there is nothing but drama here . . . a tightly constructed, briskly paced novel . . . Miss James is an artist as well as a writer of a first novel. She arouses those ancient cathartic emotions, pity and fear, in the reader."—N. Y. Times. ". . . an extraordinarily well done novel . . . she takes her place with the best of the younger generation of English writers."—Llewellyn Jones in the Chicago Evening Post. 12*mo,* 250 pages, $2.50.

JAMESON, Storm

The Georgian Novel and Mr. Robinson

Storm Jameson, best known as a novelist, has written an amusing, discriminating book of criticism. She takes a quiet little man—not dogmatic, always willing to learn—whom she calls Mr. Robinson and guides him gently and skillfully through present-day fiction.

Miss Jameson writes delightfully of her contemporaries. Whether she is for them or against them she succeeds in giving us new ideas and standards for estimating their work. Among the authors she writes about are Virginia Woolf, Aldous Huxley, H. G. Wells, C. E. Montague, Maurice Baring, and R. H. Mottram.

KENTON, Edna

The Book of Earths

One of the most curious and interesting collections of pictures which have ever appeared in any book illustrates this story of man's conceptions of the earth, and its relation to the universe, from the earliest time to the present day. While its scholarship is sound in every particular, the book is for the general reader. A novel based on the dramatic life of a great American who has been neglected by history.

Noah and his family enter the ark. The flood GENESIS, 7 thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 Thus did Nō'ah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

7 CHAPTER 7

1 Noah, his family, and the creatures enter the ark. 17 The beginning, increase, and continuance of the flood.

AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.

2 Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 ¶ And Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 ¶ In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

12 And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the selfsame day entered Nō'ah, and Shĕm, and Hăm, and Jā'pheth, the sons of Nō'ah, and Nō'ah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark;

14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.

15 And they went in unto Nō'ah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the LORD shut him in.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

18 And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.

19 And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.

said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.
44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.
45 It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.
46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.
47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.
48 I am that bread of life.
49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.
50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.
51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.
52 The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?
53 Then Jĕ'sus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.
54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.
55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.
56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.
58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.
59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Că-pĕr'nă-ŭm.
60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying; who can hear it?
61 When Jĕ'sus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?
62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?
63 It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.
64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jĕ'sus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.
65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.
66 ¶ From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.
67 Then said Jĕ'sus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?
68 Then Sī'mon Pē'tĕr answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.
69 And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.
70 Jĕ'sus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?
71 He spake of Jū'das Ĭs-căr'ĭ-ot the son of Sī'mon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7. 1004

1 Christ reproveth his kinsmen: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees chide Nicodemus.

AFTER these things Jĕ'sus walked in Găl'ĭ-lee: for he would not walk in Jew'rў, because the Jews sought to kill him.
2 Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.
3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Jū-dæ'ă, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.
4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.
5 For neither did his brethren believe in him.
6 Then Jĕ'sus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.
7 The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.
8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come.
9 When he had said these words

30 And when it was told me, how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to An-tĭp'a-trĭs.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cæs-a-rē'a, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cĭ-lĭ'ci-a; 35 I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Hĕr'od's judgment hall.

1042 CHAPTER 24.

AND after five days, Ăn-a-nī'as the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Ter-tŭl'lus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Ter-tŭl'lus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Fē'lix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Năz-a-rēnes':

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lў'si-as came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom, thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 Because that thou mayest understand that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Je-ru'sa-lĕm for to worship.

12 And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets:

15 And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many years, I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 Whereupon certain Jews from Ā'sia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

19 Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council, 21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead, I am called in question by you this day.

22 And when Fē'lix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lў'si-as the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 And after certain days, when Fē'lix came with his wife Drū-sĭl'la, which was a Jew'ess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Chrĭst.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Fē'lix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 But after two years, Pōr'ci-us Fēstus came into Fē'lix' room: and Fē'lix, willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER 25. 1043

NOW when Fĕs'tus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cæs-a-rē'a to Je-ru'sa-lĕm.

2 Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Je-ru'sa-lĕm, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Fĕs'tus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cæs'a-rē'a, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cæs-a-rē'a; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews

19 And set him before Ē-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation; and [r] give him a charge in their sight.

CHAPTER 28

1 Offerings are to be observed. 3 The continual burnt offering. 9 The offering on the sabbath, 11 on the new moons, 16 at the passover, 26 in the day of firstfruits.

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'-şeş, saying,

2 Command the children of Ĭş'rą-el, and say unto them, My offering, and [a] my bread for my sacrifices made by fire, for [2] a sweet savour unto me, shall ye observe to offer unto me in their due season.

3 And thou shalt say unto them, [b] This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the LORD; two lambs of the first year without spot [3] day by day, for a continual burnt offering.

4 The one lamb shalt thou offer in the morning, and the other lamb shalt thou offer [4] at even;

5 And [c] a tenth part of an ephah of flour for a [d] meat offering, mingled with the fourth part of an [e] hin of beaten oil.

6 It is [f] a continual burnt offering, which was ordained in mount Sī'nāi for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

7 And the drink offering thereof shall be the fourth part of an hin for the one lamb: [g] in the holy place shalt thou cause the strong wine to be poured unto the LORD for a drink offering.

8 And the other lamb shalt thou offer at even: as the meat offering of the morning, and as the drink offering thereof, thou shalt offer it, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

9 ¶ And on the sabbath day two lambs of the first year without spot, and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and the drink offering thereof:

10 This is [h] the burnt offering of every sabbath, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

11 ¶ And [i] in the beginnings of your months ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the LORD; two young bullocks, and one ram, seven lambs of the first year without spot;

12 And [k] three tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one bullock; and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one ram;

13 And a several tenth deal of flour mingled with oil for a meat offering unto one lamb; for a burnt offering of a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

14 And their drink offerings shall be half an hin of wine unto a bullock, and the third part of an hin unto a ram, and a fourth part of an hin unto a lamb: this is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.

15 And [l] one kid of the goats for a sin offering unto the LORD shall be offered, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

16 [m] And in the fourteenth day of the first month is the passover of the LORD.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

3 Thus saith the LORD; [a]I am returned unto Zĭ'ŏn, and [b]will dwell in the midst of Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm: and Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm [c]shall be called [rv]a city of truth; and [d]the mountain of the LORD of hosts [e]the holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [f]There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm, [ro]and every man with his staff in his hand [1]for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If it be [2]marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in [rv]these days, [g]should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, [h]I will save my people from the east country, and from [3]the west country;

7 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm: [i]and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, [j]in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [k]Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words [rv]by the mouth of [l]the prophets, which were in [m]the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, [rv]that the temple might be built.

10 For before [rv]these days [4]there was no [n]hire for man, nor any hire for beast; [o]neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the [rv]affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the [rv]residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 [p]For [rv]the seed shall be [5]prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and [q]the ground shall give her increase, and [r]the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to [rv]possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were [s]a curse among the [rv]heathen, O house of Jū'dah, and house of Ĭs'ra-el; so will I save you, and [t]ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but [u]let your hands be strong.

CHAPTER VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5 healeth the centurion's servant, 14 Peter's mother in law, 16 and many diseased: 18 sheweth how he is to be followed: 23 stilleth the tempest, 28 driveth the devils out of two men possessed, 31 and suffereth them to go into the swine.

[rv] WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 [a] And, behold, there came [rv] a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And [rv] Jē′sus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou [rv] clean. And [rv] immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jē′sus saith unto him, [b] See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that [c] Mō′ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 ¶ [d] And when [rv] Jē′sus was entered into Cā-pēr′na-ŭm, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth [rv] at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And [rv] Jē′sus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 [rv] The centurion answered and said, Lord, [e] I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but [rv] [f] speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I [rv] am a man under authority, having [rv] soldiers under me; and I say to this [rv] man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 [rv] When Jē′sus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Ĭs′ra-el.

11 And I say unto you, That [g] many shall come from the east and [rv] west, and shall sit down with Ā′brā-hăm, and Ī′saac, and Jā′cob, in the kingdom of heaven.

12 But [h] the [rv] children of the kingdom [i] shall be cast [rv] out into [rv] outer darkness: there shall be [rv] weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jē′sus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; [ro] and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And [rv] his servant was healed in [rv] the selfsame hour.

14 ¶ [k] And when Jē′sus was come into Pē′tēr's house, he saw [l] his wife's mother [ro] laid, and [rv] sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto [rv] them.

16 ¶ [rv] [m] When [ro] the even was come, they brought unto him many [ro] that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with [rv] his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Ē-sā′ĭas the prophet, saying, [n] Himself took our infirmities, and bare our [rv] sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Jē′sus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

Jesus feeds five thousand: he walks on the sea. ST. JOHN, 6

CHAPTER 6

1 Jesus feeds five thousand: 19 he walks on the sea to his disciples. 22 The people flock to him; 32 he declares himself the bread of life. 66 Many disciples forsake him; 68 but Peter confesses him.

AFTER these things Jē'sus went over the sea of Găl'ĭ-lee, which is the sea of Tĭ-bē'rĭ-as.
2 And a great multitude followed

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jē'sus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

POSTER MAKING FOR THE AMATEUR

By ANNE WOODROW VANDEVANTER

Field Representative of Educational Department, Executive Committee of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States

Among the various methods of advertising used today, the poster is fast taking first place. The poster, if it be a true poster, is not merely attractive. It is striking and it leaves the reader with a very definite idea as to what he has just seen or read. Thus, it would seem logical that the poster should play a large and important part in church advertising. It is to this particular phase of church advertising that this manual applies itself.

In preparing this manual on poster-making, the author has been careful to present through its pages not only her own ideas on the subject, but the combined experience of many others whose knowledge of poster-making should be of value. That this might be done accurately, a questionnaire was sent to a select list asking a few direct questions covering every phase of the subject. Thus, this manual is more than the work and opinion of one person. It is the composite judgment, based on experience, of many persons skilled in this work. It contains complete instructions for making posters by both hand-lettering and cut-paper methods.

Jew and Gentile alike under Sin.

truth; 21 thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? 22 thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou rob temples? 23 thou who gloriest in the law, through thy transgression of the law dishonorest thou God? 24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you, [1]even as it is written.

25 For circumcision indeed profiteth, if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. 26 If therefore the uncircumcision keep the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? 27 and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who with the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law? 28 For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh: 29 but he is a Jew who is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision? 2 Much every way: first of all, that they were intrusted with the oracles of God. 3 For what if some were without faith? shall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? 4 [2]God forbid: yea, let God be found true, but every man a liar; as it is written,

> [3]That thou mightest be justified in thy words,
> And mightest prevail when thou comest into judgment.

5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth with wrath? (I speak after the manner of men.) 6 [2]God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world? 7 [4]But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 and why not (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both of Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin:

10 as it is written,
> [5]There is none righteous, no, not one;
11 There is none that understandeth,
> There is none that seeketh after God;
12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;
> There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:
13 [6]Their throat is an open sepulchre;
> With their tongues they have used deceit:
> [7]The poison of asps is under their lips:
14 [8]Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
15 [9]Their feet are swift to shed blood:
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;
17 And the way of peace have they not known:
18 [10]There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be brought under the judgment of God: 20 because [11]by [12]the works of the law shall no flesh be [13]justified in his sight; for [14]through the law cometh the knowledge of sin.

21 But now apart from the law a righteousness of God hath been manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; 22 even the righteousness of God through faith [15]in Jesus Christ unto all [16]them that believe; for there is no distinction; 23 for all [17]have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God; 24 being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: 25 whom God set forth [18]to be a propitiation, through faith, in his blood, to show his righteousness because of the passing over of the sins done aforetime, in the forbearance of God; 26 for the showing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be [19]just, and the [19]justifier of him that [20]hath Naming of the Baptist. The 'Benedictus'

And the rich he hath sent empty away.
54 He hath given help to Israel his servant,
That he might remember mercy
55 (As he spake unto our fathers)
Toward Abraham and his seed for ever.
56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.
57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbors and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62 And they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 63 And he asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, blessing God. 65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judæa. 66 And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.
67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying,
68 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel;
For he hath visited and wrought redemption for his people,
69 And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us
In the house of his servant David
70 (As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets that have been from of old), 71 Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;
72 To show mercy towards our fathers,
And to remember his holy covenant;
73 The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,
74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies
Should serve him without fear,
75 In holiness and righteousness before him all our days.
76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Most High:
For thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways;
77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people
In the remission of their sins,
78 Because of the [1] tender mercy of our God,
[2] Whereby the dayspring from on high [3] shall visit us,
79 To shine upon them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death;
To guide our feet into the way of peace.
80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his showing unto Israel.

2 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that all [4] the world should be enrolled. 2 This was the first enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judæa, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David; 5 to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child. 6 And it came to pass, while they were there, the days were ful-removed and went behind them; and the pillar of cloud removed from before them, and stood behind them: 20 and it came between the camp of Ĕ'ġўpt and the camp of ĭs'rā-ĕl; and there was the cloud and the darkness, yet gave it light by night: and the one came not near the other all the night.

21 And Mō'sĕs stretched out his hand over the sea; and Jĕ-hō'văh caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all the night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. 22 And the children of ĭs'rā-ĕl went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. 23 And the Ē-ġўp'tiăns pursued, and went in after them into the midst of the sea, all Phā'raōh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. 24 And it came to pass in the morning watch, that Jĕ-hō'văh looked forth upon the host of the Ē-ġўp'tiăns through the pillar of fire and of cloud, and discomfited the host of the Ē-ġўp'tiăns. 25 And he [1]took off their chariot wheels, [2]and they drove them heavily; so that the Ē-ġўp'tiăns said, Let us flee from the face of ĭs'rā-ĕl; for Jĕ-hō'văh fighteth for them against the Ē-ġўp'tiăns.

26 And Jĕ-hō'văh said unto Mō'sĕs, Stretch out thy hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Ē-ġўp'tiăns, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen. 27 And Mō'sĕs stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to its [3]strength when the morning appeared; and the Ē-ġўp'tiăns fled against it; and Jĕ-hō'văh [4]overthrew the Ē-ġўp'tiăns in the midst of the sea. 28 And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, even all the host of Phā'raōh that went in after them into the sea; there remained not so much as one of them. 29 But the children of ĭs'rā-ĕl walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. 30 Thus Jĕ-hō'văh saved ĭs'rā-ĕl that day out of the hand of the Ē-ġўp'tiăns; and ĭs'rā-ĕl saw the Ē-ġўp'tiăns dead upon the sea-shore. 31 And ĭs'rā-ĕl saw the great [5]work which Jĕ-hō'văh did upon the Ē'ġўp'tiăns, and the people feared Jĕ-hō'văh: and they believed in Jĕ-hō'văh, and in his servant Mō'sĕs.

15 Then sang Mō'sĕs and the children of ĭs'rā-ĕl this song unto Jĕ-hō'văh, and spake, saying,

I will sing unto Jĕ-hō'văh, for he [6]hath triumphed gloriously:
The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.
2 [7]Jĕ-hō'văh is my strength and song,
And he is become my salvation:
This is my God, and I will praise him;
My father's God, and I will exalt him.
3 Jĕ-hō'văh is a man of war:
Jĕ-hō'văh is his name.
4 Phā'raōh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea;
And his chosen captains are sunk in the Red Sea.
5 The deeps cover them:
They went down into the depths like a stone.
6 Thy right hand, O Jĕ-hō'văh, is glorious in power, Thy right hand, O Jĕ-hō'văh, dasheth in pieces the enemy.
7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou overthrowest them that rise up against thee:
Thou sendest forth thy wrath, it consumeth them as stubble.
8 And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were piled up,
The floods stood upright as a heap;
The deeps were congealed in the heart of the sea.

4 And Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led in the Spirit in the wilderness 2 during forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were completed, he hungered. 3 And the devil said unto him, if thou art the Son of God, command this stone that it become [1]bread. 4 And Jesus answered unto him, It is written, [2]Man shall not live by bread alone. 5 And he led him up, and showed him all the kingdoms of [3]the world in a moment of time. 6 And the devil said unto him, To thee will I give all this authority, and the glory of them: for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. 7 If thou therefore wilt [4]worship before me, it shall all be thine. 8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. 9 And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the [5]pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence: 10 for it is written,

> [6]He shall give his angels charge > concerning thee, to guard thee:

11 and,

> On their hands they shall bear > thee up,
> Lest haply thou dash thy foot > against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, [7]Thou shalt not make trial of the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him [8]for a season.

14 And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and a fame went out concerning him through all the region round about. 15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up to read. 17 And there was delivered unto him [9]the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the [10]book, and found the place where it was written,

18 [11]The Spirit of the Lord is upon me,
> [12]Because he anointed me to preach [13]good tidings to the poor:
> He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,
> And recovering of sight to the blind,
> To set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the [10]book, and gave it back to the attendant, and sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, Today hath this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, Is not this Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah land of Edom, saying, 24 Aaron shall be gathered unto his people; for he shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the children of Israel, because ye rebelled against my word at the waters of Meribah. 25 Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hor; 26 and strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son: and Aaron shall be gathered unto his people, and shall die there. 27 And Moses did as Jehovah commanded: and they went up into mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation. 28 And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron died there on the top of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mount. 29 And when all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead, they wept for Aaron thirty days, even all the house of Israel.

21 And the Canaanite, the king of Arad, who dwelt in the South, heard tell that Israel came by the way [1]of Atharim; and he fought against Israel, and took some of them captive. 2 And Israel vowed a vow unto Jehovah, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will [2]utterly destroy their cities.
3 And Jehovah hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered up the Canaanites; and they [3]utterly destroyed them and their cities: and the name of the place was called [4]Hor-mah.

4 And they journeyed from mount Hor by the way to the Red Sea, to compass the land of Edom: and the soul of the people [5]was much disand our soul loatheth this [7]light bread. 6 And Jehovah sent fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Israel died. 7 And the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned, because we have spoken against Jehovah, and against thee; pray unto Jehovah, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people. 8 And Jehovah said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a standard: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he seeth it, shall live. 9 And Moses made a serpent of brass, and set it upon the standard: and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he looked unto the serpent of brass, he lived.

10 And the children of Israel journeyed, and encamped in Oboth.
11 And they journeyed from Oboth, and encamped at Iye-abarim, in the wilderness which is before Moab, toward the sunrising. 12 From thence they journeyed, and encamped in the valley of Zered.
13 From thence they journeyed, and encamped on the other side of the Arnon, which is in the wilderness, that cometh out of the border of the Amorites: for the Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites. 14 Wherefore it is said in the book of the Wars of Jehovah,

Vaheb [8]in Suphah,
And the valleys of the Arnon,
15 And the slope of the valleys
That inclineth toward the dwelling of Ar,
And leaneth upon the border of 15 And [a] certain men came down from Jū-dæ'-à and taught [b]the brethren, saying, Except ye be [c]circumcised after [d]the custom of Mō'-şēş, ye cannot be saved. 2 And when Paul and Bär'-nă-băs had no small dissension and [e]questioning with them, [f]the brethren appointed that Paul and Bär'-nă-băs, and certain other of them, should go up to Jē-ru'-sà-lĕm unto the apostles [g] and elders about this question. 3 They therefore, being [h]brought on their way by the church, passed through both [i]Phœ-nĭ'-çi-à and Să-mâ'-rĭ-à, [k]declaring the conversion of the Gĕn'-tīles: and they caused great joy unto all [b]the brethren. 4 And when they were come to Jē-ru'-sâ-lĕm, they were received of the church and [g]the apostles and the elders, and they [k]rehearsed all things that God had done with them. 5 But there rose up certain of [l]the sect of the [m]Phär'-ĭ-sēes who believed, saying, It is needful to [c]circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Mō'-şēş.

6 And [g]the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this matter. 7 And when there had been much [e]questioning, Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know that [1]a good while ago [n]God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gĕn'-tīles should hear the word of [o]the [2]gospel, and believe. 8 And God, [p]who knoweth the heart, bare them witness, [q]giving them the Holy Spirit, even as he did unto us; 9 and [r]he made no distinction between us and them, [s]cleansing their hearts by faith. 10 Now therefore why [t]make ye trial of God, that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples which [u]neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? 11 But we believe that we shall be saved through [v]the grace of the Lord Jē'-şŭs, in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Bär'-nă-băs and Paul [k]rehearsing what [x]signs and [x]wonders God had wrought among the Gĕn'-tīles through them. 13 And after they had held their peace, [y]James answered, saying,

Brethren, hearken unto me: 14 [z]Sỹm'-ĕ-ŏn hath rehearsed how first God visited the [3]Gĕn'-tīles, to take out of them a people for his name. 15 And to this agree the words of [a]the prophets; as it is written,

16 [4]After these things [b]I will return,
And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen;
And I will build again the ruins thereof,
And I will set it up:
17 That the residue of men may seek after the Lord,
And all the [3]Gĕn'-tīles, [c]upon whom my name is called, 18 Saith the Lord, [5]who [d]maketh these things known from of old.
19 Wherefore [e]my judgment is, that we trouble not them that from among the Gĕn'-tīles turn to God; 20 but that we [6]write unto them, that they abstain from the [f]pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from [g]what is strangled, and from blood. 21 For [h]Mō'-şēş from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to [i]the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to [k]An'-tĭ-ŏch with Paul and Bär'-nă-băs; namely, Jū'-dăs called Bär'-săb-băs, and [l]Sī'-lăs, chief men among [m]the brethren: 23 and they wrote thus by them, [7i]The apostles and the elders, brethren, unto [m]the brethren who are of the Gĕn'-tīles in [k]An'-tĭ-ŏch and [n]Sỹr'-ĭ-à and [o]Çĭ-lĭ'-çi-à, [p]greeting: 24 Forasmuch as we have heard that [q]certain [8]who went out from us have [r]troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 [s] it seemed good unto us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our beloved Bär'-nă-băs and Paul, 26 men that have hazarded [t]their lives for the name of our Lord Jē'-şŭs Ⱪhrĭst. 27 We have sent therefore [u]Jū'-dăs and [v]Sī'-lăs, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For [s] it seemed good to [x]the Holy Spirit, and to [y]us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things: 29 that ye abstain from [z]things sacrificed to idols, and from [a]blood, and from [a]things strangled, and from [z]fornication; from

And to them that sat in the region and shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.

17 [a] From that time began Jesus to preach, and to say, [b] Repent ye; for the [b] kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 [c] And walking by [d] the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, [e] Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw two other brethren, [1 f] James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And [2] Jesus went about [g] in all Galilee, [h] teaching in their synagogues, and [i] preaching the [3] gospel of the kingdom, and [k] healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth [l] into all Syria: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, [4 m] possessed with demons, and [n] epileptic, and [o] palsied; and he healed them. 25 And there [p] followed him great multitudes from Galilee and [q] Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from [r] beyond the Jordan.

5 [s] And seeing the multitudes, he went up into [t] the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and he [u] opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 [v] Blessed are the poor in spirit: for [x] theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 [5] Blessed are [y] they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are [z] the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are [a] they that hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are [b] the pure in heart: for [c] they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for [d] they shall be called sons of God.

10 Blessed are they that have been [e] persecuted for righteousness' sake: for [x] theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 Blessed are ye when men shall [f] reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. 12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [g] so persecuted they the prophets that were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: but [h] if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. 14 Ye are [i] the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15 [k] Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. 16 Even so let your light shine before men; that they may [i] see your good works, and [m] glorify your Father who is in heaven.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, [n] Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. 19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 [o] Ye have heard that it was said to [6] them of old time, [6] Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall

Job smitten with Boils. His Three Friends. Job's First Speech. His Birth bewailed

2 [a]Again it came to pass on the day when the sons of God came to present themselves before Jĕ-hō'-văh, that Satan came also among them to present himself before Jĕ-hō'-văh. 2 And Jĕ-hō'-văh said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered Jĕ-hō'-văh, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it. 3 And Jĕ-hō'-văh said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Jōb? [1]for there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and turneth away from evil: and he still [b]holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, [2]to destroy him [c]without cause. 4 And Satan answered Jĕ-hō'-văh, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. 5 [d]But put forth thy hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will renounce thee to thy face. 6 And Jĕ-hō'-văh said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thy hand; only spare his life.

7 So Satan went forth from the presence of Jĕ-hō'-văh, and smote Jōb with [e]sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown. 8 And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself therewith; and [f]he sat among the ashes. 9 Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still hold fast thine integrity? renounce God, and die. 10 But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the [3]foolish women speaketh. What? [g]shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? [h]In all this did not Jōb sin with his lips.

11 Now when Jōb's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place: Ĕl'-ĭ-phăz the [i]Tē'-măn-īte, and Bĭl'-dăd the [k]Shu'-hīte, and Zō'-phăr the Nā'-ă-mă-thīte; and they made an appointment together to come to [l]bemoan him and to comfort him. 12 And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they [m]rent every one his robe, and [n]sprinkled dust upon their heads toward heaven. 13 So they sat down with him upon the ground [o]seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his [4]grief was very great.

And the night which said, There is a man-child conceived.
4 Let that day be darkness;
Let not God from above seek for it,
Neither let the light shine upon it.
5 Let darkness and [5]the [b]shadow of death claim it for their own;
Let a cloud dwell upon it;
Let all that maketh black the day terrify it.
6 As for that night, let [c]thick darkness seize upon it:
Let it not rejoice among the days of the year;
Let it not come into the number of the months.
7 Lo, let that night be [6]barren;
Let no joyful voice come therein.
8 Let them curse it that curse the day,
Who are [7]ready to [d]rouse up lĕ-vĭ'-a-thăn.
9 Let the stars of the twilight thereof be dark:
Let it look for light, but have none;
Neither let it behold the [e]evelids of the morning:

Nor hid trouble from mine eyes.

Why did I not give up the ghost when my mother bare me?

Or why the breasts, that I should suck?

I should have slept; then had I been at rest,

Who [8]built up [l]waste places for themselves;

Who filled their houses with silver

As infants that never saw light.

Oracle concerning Damascus. A Prophecy concerning Ethiopia

17 The [1a] burden of [b] Damascus.

Behold, Damascus is [c] taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous [d] heap. 2 The cities of [e] Aroer are forsaken; they shall be for [f] flocks, which shall lie down, and [g] none shall make them afraid. 3 And the [h] fortress shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom [2] from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria; they shall be as the [i] glory of the children of Israel, saith Jehovah of hosts.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the [k] glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the [l] fatness of his flesh shall wax lean. 5 And it shall be [m] as when the harvestman gathereth the standing grain, and his arm reapeth the ears; yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears in the [n] valley of Rephaim. 6 Yet there shall be left therein [o] gleanings, as the [3] shaking of an olive-tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of a fruitful tree, saith Jehovah, the God of Israel. 7 In that day shall men [p] look unto their Maker, and their eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel. 8 And they shall not look to the [q] altars, the work of their hands; neither shall they have respect to that which their [r] fingers have made, either the [s] Asherim, or the sun-images. 9 In that day shall their strong cities be as [t] the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel; and it shall be a desolation. 10 For [u] thou hast forgotten the [v] God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the [x] rock of thy [d] nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but he shall [e] rebuke [8] them, and [9f] they shall flee far off, and shall be chased [g] as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. 14 At eventide behold, terror; and before the morning [10h] they are not. This is the [i] portion of them that despoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

18 Ah, the land [11] of the rustling of wings, which is beyond the rivers of [12k] Ethiopia; 2 that sendeth ambassadors by the sea, [13] even in vessels of [l] papyrus upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation [14m] tall and smooth, to a people [n] terrible from their beginning onward, a nation [15] that meteth out and treadeth down, whose land the rivers [16] divide! 3 [o] All ye inhabitants of the world, and ye dwellers on the earth, when an [p] ensign is lifted up on the mountains, [q] see ye; and when the trumpet is blown, hear ye.

4 For thus hath Jehovah said unto me, I will be still, and I will behold in my [r] dwelling-place, [17] like clear heat in [s] sunshine, like a cloud of [t] dew in the heat of harvest. 5 For [u] before the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becometh a ripening grape, he will cut off the sprigs with pruning-hooks, and the [v] spreading branches will he take away and cut down. 6 They shall be left together unto the [x] ravenous birds of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth; and the ravenous birds shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall win-

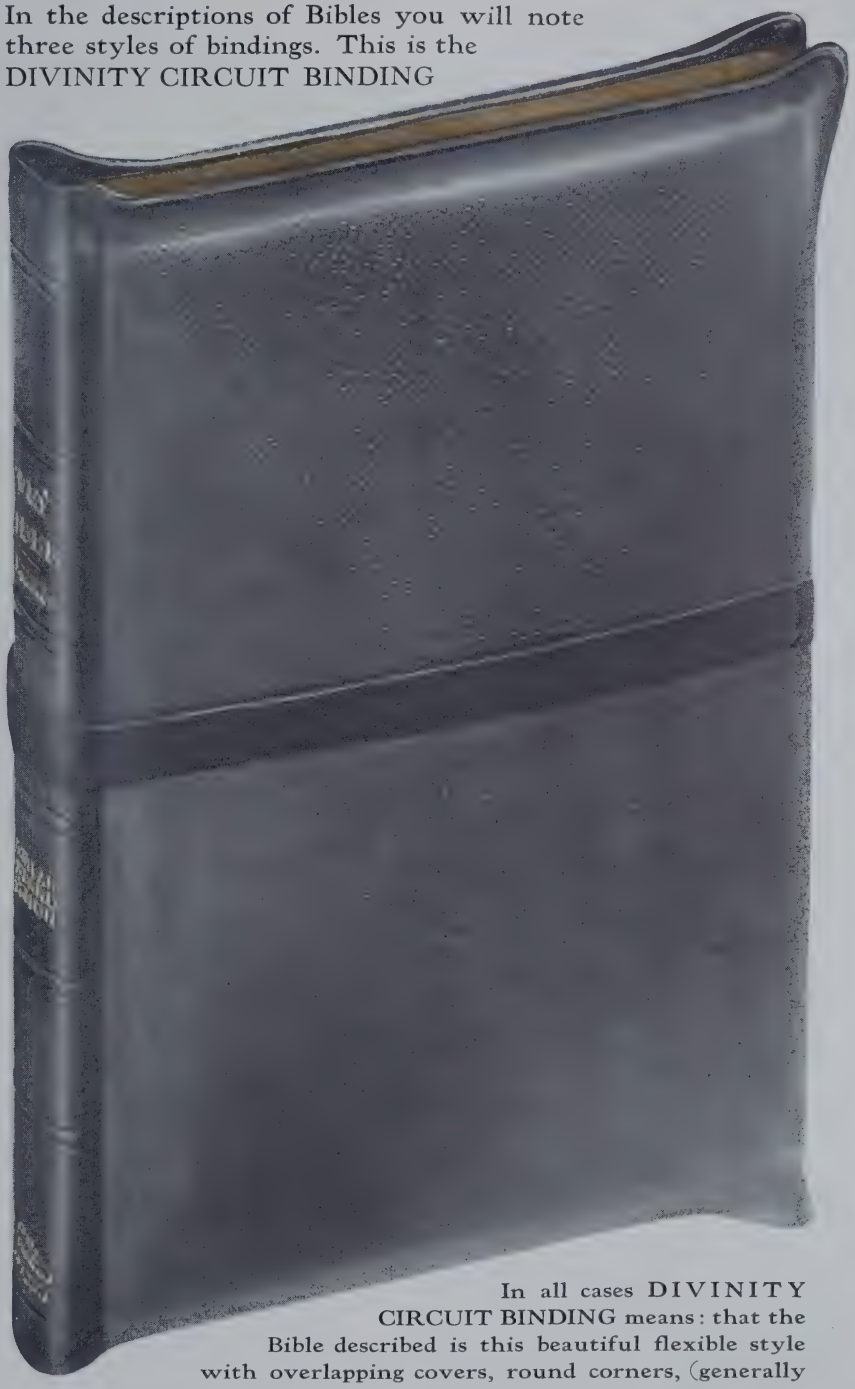
In the descriptions of Bibles you will note three styles of bindings. This is the DIVINITY CIRCUIT BINDING



In all cases DIVINITY CIRCUIT BINDING means: that the Bible described is this beautiful flexible style with overlapping covers, round corners, (generally red under genuine gold edges), and the title is stamped in pure gold.

Nelson Bindings are Guaranteed

and this is the LIMP BINDING you find listed in the catalog descriptions the LIMP BINDING is also flexible, but the covers do not overlap. It has round corners, (mostly red under gold edges), and the title is stamped in pure gold.

Nelson Bindings are Guaranteed

This is the CLOTH BINDING listed in the catalog and CLOTH BINDING, unless otherwise mentioned, means that the Bible is bound in cloth over stiff board covers, with square corners, red edges, and gold stamped title.

Kinds of Leathers Used for Nelson Bibles

Genuine Leather is high grade sheepskin. The term "Morocco" refers to the grain. This has good wearing qualities and is used only on the lower priced styles of Bibles.

Genuine Morocco is real goatskin, the most satisfactory and strongest leather for binding purposes. It makes an exceedingly attractive as well as durable book.

Genuine Levant is also real goatskin, but of the very finest quality and selection.

Sealskin is supple and durable, though costly. It is used in the making of the very finest editions of Nelson Bibles.

Nelson Guaranteed Binding

When you first buy a Bible, it is worth the small extra cost to select as fine a binding as you can afford. It will bring you real satisfaction, and will last for years. A Nelson Guaranteed Binding, you know, will be replaced if it does not bear up under the strain of use.

A Nelson India paper edition is the most perfect Bible possible to make; compact and light to hold.

Nelson Bible for Ministers' Notes

MINISTERS LIKE A BIBLE IN WHICH THEY CAN MAKE NOTES

A wide margin makes a large book and often does not give enough room for notes. We have applied our Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia Binder to a Bible, which will enable the Minister to put in a sermon, or his notes, whenever required all through the Bible. This is so simple that anyone can insert, change or remove a page or pages in a moment. Additional blank pages can be secured at any time at nominal cost. With 160 sheets ruled paper.

devil having already put into the heart of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, Si'mon's son, to [1] betray him, 3 Je'sus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth from God, and goeth unto God, 4 riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel and girded himself. 5 Then he poureth water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. 6 So he cometh to Si'mon Pe'ter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 Je'sus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand hereafter. 8 Pe'ter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Je'sus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. 9 Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. 10 Je'sus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not [2] save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all. 11 For he knew him that should [1] betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and [3] sat down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you? 13 Ye call me, Teacher, and, Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. 14 If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. 15 For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you. 16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, A [4] servant is not greater than his lord; neither [5] one that is sent greater than he that sent him. 17 If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them. 18 I speak not of you all: I know whom I [6] have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, [7] He that eateth [8] my bread lifted up his heel against me. 19 From henceforth I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he. 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

saith unto them, Mō'sēs for your hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so. 9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, [1] except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: [2] and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery. 10 The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient to marry. 11 But he said unto them, Not all men can receive this saying, but they to whom it is given. 12 For there are eunuchs, that were so born from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, that were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, that made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 Then, were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. 14 But Jē'sūs said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for [3] to such belongeth the kingdom of heaven. 15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 And behold, one came to him and said, [4] Teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life? 17 And he said unto him, [5] Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments. 18 He saith unto him, Which? And Jē'sūs said, [6] Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honor thy father and thy mother; and, [7] Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. 20 The young man saith

The Evangelist's Retrospect. Jesus sums up his Claims

34 The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Jē'sŭs therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light [1] among you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.

These things spake Jē'sŭs, and he departed and [2] hid himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 that the word of Ī-sā'ĭăh the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, [3] Lord, who hath believed our report?

And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 For this cause they could not believe, for that Ī-sā'ĭăh said again,

40 [4] He hath blinded their eyes, and he hardened their heart;
Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart,
And should turn,
And I should heal them.

41 These things said Ī-sā'ĭăh, because he saw his glory; and he spake of him. 42 Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Phăr'ĭ-sēēs they did not confess [5] it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: 43 for they loved the glory that is of men more than the glory that is of God.

44 And Jē'sŭs cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me. 45 And he that beholdeth me beholdeth him that sent me. 46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in the darkness. 47 And if any man hear my sayings, and keep them not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I

EVERYTHING IS GAINED

When the sacred thought of the Bible is clarified by the substitution of the most understanding and understandable word or phrase, a clarifying light has been focussed upon it. The American Standard Version is that light. Everything has been gained—nothing has been lost.

Read it with an open mind and see for yourself.

Summary of the Gospel

37 If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. 38 [1]But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But let all things be done decently and in order.

15 Now I make known unto you, brethren, the [2]gospel which I [3]preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, 2 by which also ye are saved, if ye hold fast [4]the word which I [3]preached unto you, except ye believed [5]in vain. 3 For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received: that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; 4 and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures; 5 and that he appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; 6 then he appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; 7 then he appeared to [6]James; then to all the apostles; 8 and last of all, as to the child untimely born, he appeared to me also. 9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found [7]vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. 11 Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? 13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither hath Christ been raised: 14 and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching [7]vain, [8]your faith also is

The Readers' infantile State

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: 2 who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity; 3 and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And no man taketh the honor unto himself, but when he is called of God, even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

[1]Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee:
6 as he saith also in another place,
[2]Thou art a priest for ever
After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him [3]from death, and having been heard for his godly fear, 8 though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 9 and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the [4]author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

11 Of [5]whom we have many things to say, and hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again [6]that some one teach you the rudiments of the [7]first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is [8]without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is a babe. 14 But solid food is for [9]fullgrown men, Behold the day of which the LORD said unto thee. Behold, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hand, that thou mayest do to him as it shall seem good unto thee. Then Dā'vid arose, and cut off the skirt of Saul's robe, privily.

5 And it came to pass afterward, that Dā'vid's heart smote him, because he had cut off Saul's skirt.

6 And he said unto his men, The LORD forbid that I should do this thing unto my master, the LORD'S anointed, to stretch forth mine hand against him, see-

21 Swear now therefore unto me by the LORD, that thou wilt not cut off my seed after me, and that thou wilt not destroy my name out of my father's house.

22 And Dā'vid sware unto Saul. And Saul went home; but Dā'vid and his men gat them up unto the hold.

The silver trumpets. NUMBERS, 10. The Israelites' march.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The silver trumpets. 11 The Israelites remove from Sinai to Paran. 33 Moses' blessing.

AND the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Make thee two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.

3 And when they shall blow with them, all the assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are heads of the thousands of Israel, shall gather themselves unto thee.

5 When ye blow an alarm, then the camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.

6 When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow an alarm for their journeys.

7 But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not sound an alarm.

8 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations.

9 And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that oppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be remembered before the LORD your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.

10 Also in the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; that they may be to you for a memorial before your God: I am the LORD your God.

11 ¶ And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was taken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.

12 And the children of Israel took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sinai; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Paran.

13 And they first took their journey according to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Moses.

14 ¶ In the first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Judah according to their armies: and over his host was Nahshon the son of Amminadab.

15 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Issachar was Nethaneel the son of Zuar.

16 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zebulun was Eliab the son of Helon.

17 And the tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari set forward, bearing the tabernacle.

18 ¶ And the standard of the camp of Reuben set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Elizur the son of Shedeur.

19 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Simeon was Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.

20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gad was Eliasaph the son of Deuel.

21 And the Kohathites set forward, bearing the sanctuary: and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came.

22 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Ephraim set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Elishama the son of Ammihud.

23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Manasseh was Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.

24 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Benjamin was Abidan the son of Gideoni.

25 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Dan set forward, which was the rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts: and over his host was Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.

26 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Asher was Pagiel the son of Ocran.

27 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Naphtali was Ahira the son of Enan.

28 Thus were the journeyings of the children of Israel according to their armies, when they set forward.

29 ¶ And Moses said unto Hobab, the son of Raguel the Midianite, Moses' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said, I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for the LORD hath spoken good concerning Israel.

30 And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.

31 And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us instead of eyes.

32 And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what good not take a wife of the daughters of Cā'-năan;

7 And that Jā'cob obeyed his father and his mother, and was gone to Pā'dan-ā'ram;

8 And Ē'sau seeing that the daughters of Cā'năan pleased not Ī'saac his father;

9 Then went Ē'sau unto Ĭsh'ma-el, and took unto the wives which he had Mā'ha-lăth the daughter of Ĭsn'ma-el Ā'brā-hăm's son, the sister of Nē-bā'joth, to be his wife.

10 ¶ And Jā'cob went out from Bē'er-shē'bà, and went toward Hā'ran.

11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.

12 And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.

13 And, behold, the LORD stood above it, and said, I am the LORD God of Ā'brā-hăm thy father, and the God of Ī'saac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to they seed;

14 And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

15 And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again unto this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.

16 ¶ And Jā'cob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the LORD is in this place; and I knew it not.

17 And he was afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.

18 And Jā'cob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place Bĕth'—el: but the name of that city was called Lŭz at the first.

20 And Jā'cob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

21 So that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the LORD be my God:

22 And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

CHAPTER 29

THEN Jā'cob went on his journey, and came into the land of the people of the east.

2 And he looked, and behold a well in the field, and, lo, there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone was upon the well's mouth.

3 And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place.

4 And Jā'cob said unto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Hā'ran are we.

5 And he said unto them, Know ye Lā'ban the son of Nā'hôr? And they said, We know him.

6 And he said unto them, Is he well? And they said, He is well: and, behold, Rā'chel his daughter cometh with the sheep.

7 And he said, Lo, it is yet high day, neither is it time that the cattle should be gathered together: water ye the sheep, and go and feed them.

8 And they said, We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep.

9 ¶ And while he yet spake with them, Rā'chel came with her father's sheep: for she kept them.

10 And it came to pass, when Jā'cob saw Rā'chel the daughter of Lā'ban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Lā'ban, his mother's brother, that Jā'cob went near, and rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the flock of Lā'ban his mother's brother.

11 And Jā'cob kissed Rā'chel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.

12 And Jā'cob told Rā'chel that he was her father's brother, and that he was Rē-bĕk'ah's son: and she ran and told her father.

13 And it came to pass, when Lā'ban heard the tidings of Jā'cob his sister's son, that he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Lā'ban all these things.

14 And Lā'ban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the space of a month.

15 ¶ And Lā'ban said unto Jā'cob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what shall thy wages be?

16 And Lā'ban had two daughters: the name of the elder was Lē'ah, and the Job reproveth his friends. JOB, 16, 17. He appealeth to God.

33 He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.
34 For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of bribery.
35 They conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Job reproveth his friends. 7 He sheweth the pitifulness of his case. 17 His innocency.

THEN Job answered and said,
2 I have heard many such things: miserable comforters are ye all.
3 Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou answerest?
4 I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my soul's stead, I could heap up words against you, and shake mine head at you.
5 But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should asswage your grief.
6 Though I speak, my grief is not asswaged: and though I forbear, what am I eased?
7 But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.
8 And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me beareth witness to my face.
9 He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth; mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes upon me.
10 They have gaped upon me with their mouth; they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully; they have gathered themselves together against me.
11 God hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.
12 I was at ease, but he hath broken me asunder: he hath also taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up for his mark.
13 His archers compass me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare; he poureth out my gall upon the ground.
14 He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.
15 I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin, and defiled my horn in the dust.
16 My face is foul with weeping, and on my eyelids is the shadow of death;
17 Not for any injustice in mine hands: also my prayer is pure.
18 O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.
19 Also now, behold, my witness is in heaven, and my record is on high.
20 My friends scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.
21 O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!
22 When a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

CHAPTER 17.

1 Job appealeth from men to God. 6 The unmerciful dealing of men with the afflicted. 11 His hope is not in life, but in death.

MY breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.
2 Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?
3 Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee; who is he that will strike hands with me?
4 For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.
5 He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.
6 He hath made me also a byword of the people; and aforetime I was as a tabret.

856 CHAPTER 6.

IT pleased Da-rī'us to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these three presidents, of whom Dăn'iel was first; that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Then this Dăn'iel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Dăn'iel concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Dăn'iel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Da-rī'us, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Mēdes and Pĕr'sians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Da-rī'us signed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Dăn'iel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house: and his windows being open in his chamber toward Je-ru'sa-lĕm, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Dăn'iel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any god or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Mēdes and Pĕr'sians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said before the king, That Dăn'iel, which is of the children of the captivity of Jū'dah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Dăn'iel to deliver him; and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Mēdes and Pĕr'sians is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Dăn'iel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Dăn'iel, Thy God, whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords, that the purpose might not be changed concerning Dăn'iel.

18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were instruments of music brought before him: and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Dăn'iel: and the king spake and said to Dăn'iel, O Dăn'iel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Dăn'iel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Dăn'iel up out of the den. So Dăn'iel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

24 And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Dăn'iel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then king Da-rī'us wrote unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Dăn'iel: for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Dăn'iel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Dăn'iel prospered in the reign of Da-rī'us, and in the reign of Çȳ'rus the Pĕr'sian.

CHAPTER 7. 857

IN the first year of Bĕl-shăz'zar king of Băb'y-lon, Dăn'iel had a dream, and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters.

2 Dăn'iel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JĒ'ṢUS.

2 CHAPTER 2

1 Visit of the wise men. 14 Flight of Joseph and his family. 19 Death of Herod. 23 Christ brought to Nazareth.

NOW when Jē'ṣus was born in Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a in the days of Hĕr'od the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jē-ru'să-lĕm,

2 Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Hĕr'od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jē-ru'să-lĕm with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And thou Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, in the land of Jū'dà, art not the least among the princes of Jū'dà: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Is'ra-el.

7 Then Hĕr'od, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mā'rў his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Hĕr'od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Jō'ṣeph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Ē'ġўpt; and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Hĕr'od will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Ē'ġўpt:

15 And was there until the death of Hĕr'od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Ē'ġўpt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Hĕr'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jĕr'e-mў the prophet, saying, 18 In Rā'mà was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rā'chel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶ But when Hĕr'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jō'ṣeph in Ē'ġўpt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Is'ra-el: for ST. MATTHEW, 3. Visit of the wise men. Return from Egypt.

5 And they said unto him, In Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm of Jū-dæ'á: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And thou Bĕth'lĕ-hĕm, in the land of Jū'dá, art not the least among the princes of Jū'dá: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Ĭs'ra-el.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Ăr-chĕ-lā'us did reign in Jū-dæ'á in the room of his father Hĕr'od, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Găl'ĭ-lee:

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Năz'a-rĕth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Năz-a-rēne'.

CHAPTER 3.

1 John's preachings and baptisms. 13 He baptizes Christ in Jordan.

IN those days came Jŏhn the Băp'tĭst, preaching in the wilderness of Jū-dæ'á,

2 And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Ē-sā'ias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And the same Jŏhn had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

5 Then went out to him Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and all Jū-dæ'á, and all the region round about Jôr'dan,

6 And were baptized of him in Jôr'dan, confessing their sins.

7 ¶ But when he saw many of the Phăr'ĭ-sees and Săd'du-çees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance:

9 And think not to say within yourselves, We have Ā'brā-hăm to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Ā'brā-hăm.

10 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

1 Paul, shipping toward Rome, 10 foretelleth of the danger of the voyage. 41 They suffer shipwreck, 22, 34, 44 yet all come safe to land.

AND when [c]it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one [d]Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius [f]courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under [2]Crete, over against Salmone;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, [k]because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with [3]hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is an haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south west and north west.

14 But not long after there [1]arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day [e]we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 [g]For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and [h]whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cæsar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: [i]for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit [l]we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, 31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, [a]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

CHAPTER 27.

1 Paul, shipping toward Rome, 10 foretelleth of the danger of the voyage. 41 They suffer shipwreck, 22, 34, 44 yet all come safe to land.

AND when [c]it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one [d]Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius [f]courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

1 Temple's destruction foretold. 3 Antecedent calamities. 29 Signs of Christ's coming to judgment. 42 The wisdom of watching.

A. D. 33

AND [a]Jē'şus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jē'şus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [b]There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Ŏl'ĭvĕs, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, [c]Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jē'şus answered and said unto them, [d]Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For [e]many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For [f]nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 Then [g]shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many [h]be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 But [k]he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom [l]shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by [m]Dăn'iel the prophet, stand in the holy place, ([n]whoso readeth, let him understand:)

16 Then let them which be in Jū-dæ'ā flee into the mountains:

17 Let him which is on the house top not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

19 And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

21 For [o]then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: [p]but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 For [q]there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, [r]if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 For [s]wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ Immediately [t]after the tribulation of those days [u]shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from

CHAPTER 5.

1 Sin of Ananias and Sapphira. 17 The apostles again imprisoned: 19 delivered by an angel, &c.

A.D. 33.

BUT a certain man named Ăn-ă-nī'ăs, with Săp-phī'rà his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, [c]and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 [d]But Pē'tĕr said, Ăn-ă-nī'ăs, why hath [f]Sā'tăn filled thine heart [2]to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And Ăn-ă-nī'ăs hearing these words [i]fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, [l]wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Pē'tĕr answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Pē'tĕr said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [m]to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 [o]Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 [p]And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 ¶ And [r]by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; out of the cities round about unto Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, bringing [a]sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ [b]Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Săd'dū-çēes,) and were filled with [1]indignation, 18 [e]And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But [g]the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people [h]all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. [k]But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and [n]the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [q]for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked

PSALM 34.

1 David praiseth God, and exhorteth others thereto. 8 They are blessed that trust in God. 11 The fear of God. 15 The privileges of the righteous.

A Psalm of Dā'-vĭd, when he changed his behaviour before [2]A-bĭm'-ĕ-lĕch; who drove him away, and he departed.

I WILL [b] bless the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her [c] boast in the LORD: [d] the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

3 O [e] magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

4 I [f] sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

5 [3] They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 [g] This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and [f] saved him out of all his troubles.

7 [m] The angel of the LORD [n] encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

8 O [p] taste and see that the LORD is good: [q] blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 O fear the LORD, ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: [r] but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me: [s] I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

12 [t] What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from [x] speaking guile.

16 [b] The face of the LORD is against them that do evil, [d] to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and [f] the LORD heareth, and delivereth them out of

PSALM 35.

1 David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies' confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongful dealing. 22 Thereby he inciteth God against them.

A Psalm of Dā'-vĭd.

PLEAD [e] my cause, O LORD, with them that strive with me: [f] fight against them that fight against me.

2 [h] Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, LORD, [u] who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?

11 [6] False witnesses did rise up; [7] they laid to my charge things that I knew not.

12 [c] They rewarded me evil for good to the [8] spoiling of my soul.

13 But as for me, [e] when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I [9] humbled my soul with fasting;

I. THESSALONIANS, 5.

CHAPTER 5.

1 He proceedeth in the former description of Christ's coming to judgment, 16 and giveth divers precepts, 23 and so concludeth the epistle.

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.
2 For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.
3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.
4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.
5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.
6 Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.
7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.
8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.
9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,
10 Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.
11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.
12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;
13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.
14 Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.
15 See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.
16 Rejoice evermore.
17 Pray without ceasing.
18 In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.
19 Quench not the Spirit.
20 Despise not prophesyings.
21 Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.
22 Abstain from all appearance of evil.
23 And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

about an hundred and twenty,)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of Da'vid spake before concerning Ju'das, which was guide to them that took Je'sus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18 Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Je-ru'sa-lem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, A-cel'-da-ma, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his bishoprick let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Je'sus went in and out among us, 22 Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Jo'seph called Bar'-sa-bas, who was surnamed Jus'tus, and Mat-thi'as.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Ju'das by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Mat-thi'as; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER 2

AND when the day of Pen'te-cost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Je-ru'sa-lem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and

CHAPTER 5.

1 Christ delivering the possessed of the legion of devils, 13 they enter into the swine. 25 He healeth the bloody issue, 35 and raiseth Jairus' daughter.

AND they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

EASTER-DAY 179

Hymns of glory and of praise,
Risen Lord, to thee we raise·
Holy Father, praise to thee,
With the Spirit, ever be. Amen.

179 8.7.8.7.7.7

HE is risen, he is risen;
Tell it out with joyful voice:
He has burst his three days' prison;
Let the whole wide earth rejoice:
Death is conquered, man is free,
Christ has won the victory.

2 Come, ye sad and fearful-hearted,
With glad smile and radiant brow:
Lent's long shadows have departed;
All his woes are over now,
And the passion that he bore:
Sin and pain can vex no more.

3 Come, with high and holy hymning,
Chant our Lord's triumphant lay;
Not one darksome cloud is dimming
Yonder glorious morning ray,
Breaking o'er the purple east,
Symbol of our Easter feast.

4 He is risen, he is risen;
He hath opened heaven's gate:
We are free from sin's dark prison,
Risen to a holier state;
And a brighter Easter beam
On our longing eyes shall stream.

Morning Prayer

Venite, exultemus Domino.

O COME, let us sing unto the LORD; * let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation.

Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving; * and show ourselves glad in him with psalms.

For the LORD is a great God; * and a great King above all gods.

In his hand are all the corners of the earth; * and the strength of the hills is his also.

The sea is his, and he made it; * and his hands prepared the dry land.

O come, let us worship and fall down, * and kneel before the LORD our Maker.

For he is the Lord our God; * and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness; * let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

For he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth; * and with righteousness to judge the world, and the peoples with his truth.

¶ Then shall follow a Portion of the Psalms, according to the Use of this Church. And at the end of every Psalm, and likewise at the end of the Venite, Benedictus es, Benedictus, Jubilate, may be, and at the end of the whole Portion, or Selection from the Psalter, shall be sung or said the Gloria Patri:

GLORY be to the Father, and to the Son, * and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, * world without end. Amen.

¶ Then shall be read the First Lesson, according to the Table or Calendar. And NOTE, That before every Lesson, the Minister shall say, Here beginneth such a Chapter (or Verse of such a Chapter) of such a Book; and after every Lesson, Here endeth the First (or the Second) Lesson.

210 SUNDAYS AFTER TRINITY

He breaks the spear and bow,
He lays the warrior low,
The chariot burns with flame;
Our trust is in his Name,
And Jacob's God our refuge!

4 Be still, the Lord is God alone,
Let all the world adore him,
And bending low before his throne,
For pitying grace implore him.
His kingdom is within,
O'er hearts made pure from sin,
Where love that casts out fear
Exults to feel him near,
The Lord of hosts our refuge.

215 S.M.D.

JESUS, my strength, my hope,
On thee I cast my care;
With humble confidence look up,
And know thou hear'st my prayer.
Give me on thee to wait,
Till I can all things do;
On thee, almighty to create,
Almighty to renew.

2 Give me a true regard,
A single, steady aim,
Unmoved by threatening or reward,
To thee and thy great Name;
A jealous, just concern
For thine immortal praise;
A pure desire that all may learn
And glorify thy grace.

Morning Prayer

¶ Here shall be said or sung the following Hymn.

¶ But NOTE, That on any day when the Holy Communion is immediately to follow, the Minister at his discretion, after any one of the following Canticles of Morning Prayer has been said or sung, may pass at once to the Communion Service.

Te Deum laudamus.

WE praise thee, O God; we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.

All the earth doth worship thee, the Father everlasting.

To thee all Angels cry aloud; the Heavens, and all the Powers therein;

To thee Cherubim and Seraphim continually do cry,

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth;

Heaven and earth are full of the Majesty of thy glory.

The glorious company of the Apostles praise thee.

The goodly fellowship of the Prophets praise thee.

The noble army of Martyrs praise thee.

The holy Church throughout all the world doth acknowledge thee;

The Father, of an infinite Majesty;

Thine adorable, true, and only Son;

Also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter.

THOU art the King of Glory, O Christ.

Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father.

When thou tookest upon thee to deliver man, thou didst humble thyself to be born of a Virgin.

When thou hadst overcome the sharpness of death, thou didst open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers.

Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father.

We believe that thou shalt come to be our Judge.

We therefore pray thee, help thy servants, whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood.

338 CONFIRMATION

5 But most of all, be ever near,
Spirit of God's most holy Fear!
In our hearts' inmost shrine:
Our souls with loving reverence fill,
To worship his most holy will,
All righteous and divine.

6 So, dearest Lord, through peace or strife,
Lead us to everlasting life,
Where only rest may be.
What matter where our lot is cast,
If only it may end at last
In Paradise with thee! Amen.

Anonymous, c. 1850

JESUS, I my cross have taken,
All to leave and follow thee;
Destitute, despised, forsaken,
Thou from hence my all shalt be:
Perish every fond ambition,
All I've sought, or hoped, or known;
Yet how rich is my condition!
God and heaven are still my own!

2 Man may trouble and distress me,
'Twill but drive me to thy breast;
Life with trials hard may press me,
Heaven will bring me sweeter rest.
O 'tis not in grief to harm me,
While thy love is left to me:
O 'twere not in joy to charm me,
Were that joy unmixed with thee.

3 Take, my soul, thy full salvation;
Rise o'er sin, and fear, and care;
Joy to find in every station
Something still to do or bear:

Nelson Loose-Leaf Medicine

Published with the co-operation of an International Advisory Board, an Editorial Board of sixty-seven of the foremost medical authorities, and about two hundred and fifty physicians and teachers—leading physicians of America, England and the Continent who have contributed the vastness of their knowledge to make this work on Internal Medicine a most scholarly, practical, and up-to-date work. A Practical System of Treatment for both General Practitioner and Specialist, kept continually up-to-date with the Nelson Loose-Leaf Binding Device.

Nelson Loose-Leaf Surgery

A New Practical System of Surgery based on the definite experience of men whose practice has given them opportunities for the widest observation, and the most careful follow-up work. It covers in great detail Surgical Physiology, Pathology, and Medical Aspects of Surgery, Surgery in Special Conditions, Preoperative and Postoperative Care, and, above all, Operative Indications and Technic. More than 3,000 illustrations, many actually made in the operating room, elucidate the text and visualize the details of technic.

Originators of the Loose-Leaf Reference System

THE SEVEN WONDERS of the ancient WORLD —and WONDERS NEVER CEASE!

Soon you may actually see the persons who are entertaining you on the radio, for television is an accomplished fact and practical improvements will before long make it common in every home. Wonders never cease! An intrepid young man conquers in solitary flight the great Atlantic. Modern medicine conquers what yesterday we thought unconquerable. Mortality is checked by methods newly found. Great tunnels are driven beneath wide rivers. Structures rise to heights undreamt of. Rushing waters wash down levees and the history of the Mississippi Valley must be rewritten. Turn a switch in your home and the ice problem no longer bothers you—science provides you with electrical refrigeration. Human accomplishment striding forever forward keeps pace with changing conditions.

NELSON'S LOOSE-LEAF ENCYCLOPAEDIA

How can a bound encyclopaedia—its very pages glued to inaction—keep up with these rapid changes? For years business men have kept their vital accounting records in loose-leaf books. But only one GREAT encyclopaedia has this sensible, practical feature. Why use a reference work which, taking years to compile, is out of date by the time it is published?

Constantly renewed by more than 1200 scientists, educators, writers, experts, many of whom are actual eye-witnesses of the subjects they cover.

IS ALWAYS UP TO DATE

Before you make an investment in any other encyclopaedia, which by its very nature must depend for its claims to up-to-dateness on patched-up old plates, and confusing added volumes, making it necessary to check up one subject in numerous places, send for the big free booklet of information about NELSONS. In NELSONS all information, no matter how new, is in its proper alphabetical place in the main body of the books.

Scholarly—Dependable

Three great editorial staffs are constantly at work under the direction of the Editor-in-Chief, John H. Finley, LL. D., Former Commissioner of Education, and President of the University of the State of New York.

New Pages Every Six Months

Every six months new pages (250 or more) are sent to every subscriber to take the place of out-of-date ones which may be replaced quickly and easily through the simplicity of NELSON'S patented loose-leaf device.

FREE Educational Reading Courses

A Reader's guide to NELSON'S Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia, including thirty-three courses on as many subjects—from Aeronautics to Zoology—is furnished without cost to all subscribers. These courses are declared by educational authorities to be equal to a college course in each of these departments.

FREE Research Library Service Bureau

For Scientific Reports and Special Information and Correspondence. Every purchaser of NELSON'S is entitled to free membership in this Bureau. If at any time you are in doubt on any subject, old or new, write to this Bureau with the positive assurance that you will promptly receive the latest obtainable and most dependable information.

NELSON'S covers every field of knowledge from the dawn of the world to the present day. It is The Encyclopaedia for a Lifetime.

Phonic Drill Cards, 6x8 inches, 21 in set.

The Phonic Drill Cards contain over 3,000 different phonetic words arranged according to the initial consonant or consonant combinations. Every consonant except x and z is used as an initial consonant, while common combinations of two or three consonants are also given as the initial basis of word lists. The words are printed in columns for convenience in use, each word being numbered. The words of each list begin with the basal consonant or consonant combination shown at the top of the list. These lists contain the words given in the series of the New Aldine Phonic Chart. At the end of some lists are added alphabetically arranged phonic words that do not occur in the Phonic Chart. These cards are designed to test the pupils' knowledge of phonics, to give practice in applying that knowledge, and to enlarge the pupils' vocabulary. They should be used immediately following the new Aldine Phonic Cards.

Ten Sets of the cards will be sufficient for one class room since individual work is not possible with a large group of pupils.

THE MONIST
A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE

Devoted to the Philosophy of Science
Founded by Edward C. Hegeler.

The Philosophy of Science is an application of the scientific method to philosophy. It is a systematization of positive facts; it takes experience as its foundation, and uses the formal relations of experience (mathematics, logic, etc.) as its method. All truths form one consistent system and any dualism of irreconcilable statements indicates a problem arising from either faulty reasoning or an insufficient knowledge of facts. Science always implies Monism, i. e., a unitary world-conception.

"The Monist" also discusses the Fundamental Problems of Philosophy in their Relations to all the Practical Religious, Ethical and Sociological Questions of the day.

FOREWORD

READERS from time immemorial have felt and yielded to the fascination of the book catalogue. Reading about books conjures up a picture of the author, the conditions under which he worked, the severity of his labor, the quality of his scholarship. The title of a book may be likened to a fuse which fires the imagination and develops new trains of thought; its subject may carry you back a thousand years or bear directly on the problems of modern life.

Mr. Christopher Morley has written an essay to prove that the Oxford Catalogue is the best book to read in bed. However true this may be, it is certain that the present catalogue offers unlimited material for speculation in almost every field of human endeavor, whether of thought or action.

The body of scholarship which it represents is the pride of an institution which has been making books for four hundred years. The Oxford University Press, alone among the Presses of the World, is able to produce a list of all its publications for 341 years.

Workmanship has gone hand in hand with scholarship in creating the Oxford Standard. Oxford India paper, the secret of the manufacture of which is known to only three living persons, has revolutionized the making of certain kinds of books. New types have been founded to make possible the printing of books in languages hitherto inaccessible to the student.

And it is the ardent maintenance of these standards, set by tradition, that assures the reader that in an Oxford book his expectations will be fully realized.

The Oxford Dictionary

A Brief Account of Its Origin and Progress

The collection of materials used in the preparation of the Oxford Dictionary began in 1857 with the appointment by the Philological Society in London of a committee for the collection of words unregistered in existing dictionaries. Dr. Trench, then Dean of Westminster, read before the Society two papers in which he pointed out that, "no one could find out from all the dictionaries extant how long any particular word had been in the language, which of its many senses was the original, or how and when these senses had been developed; nor in the case of words described as obsolete, were we told when they became obsolete or by whom they were last used. He pointed out that the obsolete and rarer words of the language had never been completely collected and called upon the Philological Society, to undertake the collection of materials to complete the work already done by Bailey, Johnson, Todd, Webster and Richardson."

The collection of materials was at once begun by the Committee and seventy-six volunteers, but it soon became apparent that the projected supplement would be greater than all existing dictionaries, and though the work was continued for many years, the first enthusiasm of the workers waned when it was found that printing was so far distant. London and American publishers were unable to undertake a work of such magnitude, and the whole undertaking languished.

A Clarendon Press Enterprise

The collections which had been made were too valuable to be abandoned, and in 1878 negotiations between the Society, the Clarendon Press, and Dr. Murray, who was by common consent designated as the editor, were entered into and finally settled early in 1879. Careful examination of the quotations then for the first time collected in one place and arranged in a continuous alphabetical series, showed that much work still remained to be done. Accordingly a new appeal was made and in the course of three years a million additional quotations were furnished raising the total to three and a half millions. These immense collections which even before the printing of the work had begun were already thirty-five times larger than had been contemplated in 1860, would have been sufficient to insure the supereminence of the dictionary. No other book has had, and very few ever will have, foundations laid in an inductive investigation of so wide a character. The richness of the material continually raised problems which had not confronted any previous lexicographer, and their solution constantly involved prolonged researches in many fields. At an early stage it became apparent that such researches would demand ample limits of time and space and the organization of a large and highly skilled editorial staff. To this end Dr. Murray removed to Oxford in 1885. Dr. Bradley, who had previously worked in London, first giving help with the letter B, undertook the editing of E, and removed to Oxford in 1896. Dr. Craigie who joined the staff at Oxford in 1897, first assisted on G, I, and K, and began independent editing with Q. Mr. Onions, after completing ten years of service with Sir James Murray and Dr. Bradley was engaged in specially preparing portions of M, N, R, and S, and at the beginning of 1914 undertook the independent editing of Su-Sz.

Thus the editorial list stood on December 31, 1925:

The late Sir James Murray, editor of A B C D, H I J K, O P, T.

The late Henry Bradley, editor of E F G, L M, S-Sh, St, and Wa-We.

William A. Craigie, editor of N, Q, R, Si-Sq, U and V.

C. T. Onions, editor of Su-Sz, Wh-Wi, and X Y Z.

Sir James Murray died on the 26th July, 1915. His great wish that he should live to finish the Dictionary on his eightieth birthday, in 1917, had not been fulfilled; the unceasing labor of three and thirty years ended when less than a tenth part of the work remained to be done.

Dr. Henry Bradley died on the 23rd of May, 1923. His connexion with the Dictionary, which took its rise from a notable review of the first part when it was published in 1884, began formally with the independent editing of E. At first his work was carried on under difficulties; but after his removal to Oxford in 1896 his production was virtually continuous, and lasted for twenty-seven years. Although deprived of the satisfaction of seeing the completion of the Dictionary, he had covered no small part of the last important letter, and was fortunate in being able to continue his work to the very end with unimpaired faculties and unabated interest.

OPINIONS

New York Times:

"This year is to see the completion of the greatest work in dictionary-making ever undertaken. . . . It is needless to dwell upon the nature and value of this wonderful lexicographical achievement. All who have made acquaintance with the successive volumes have known how and why to prize them. . . . The result is a noble conspectus of the British language from its earliest days down to our own times. . . . The New English Dictionary is a treasure house for scholars, and at the same time a source of instruction and delight for the ordinary reader. Being a product of full and precise knowledge, it is a splendid resort against current blunders and arrogant but ignorant pedantry. Cocksure teachers and condescending lecturers and critics who delight to tell you that such and such a word or usage is 'not good English' are the easiest persons to confute out of the pages of the New English Dictionary. It is a veritable monument of exact and patient scholarship." May 22, 1927.

Boston Transcript:

". . (it) represents the most appalling amount of lexicographical work ever performed. . . . It should be noted that the New English Dictionary is not a work of lexicographical critical opinion like Dr. Samuel Johnson's immortal work; it is a history of the language." May 21, 1927.

The Nation:

"The current year is expected to see the appearance of the last volume of the New English Dictionary. Probably most people will not remember 1927 for that, but it is not likely that any of its other achievements will more deserve to be remembered. . . . No similar work—not even the great German lexicon of the brothers Grimm—is comparable to it in magnitude, accuracy, or completeness. . . . Bulk is no adequate measure of the Dictionary's accomplishment or any indication of its meticulous accuracy. . . . The New English Dictionary is one of those magnificent achievements which are only possible when an organization exists capable of drawing to itself during several generations the precise men for the task in hand. . . . It is one of the greatest monuments to the patient persistence of scholarship and one of the most sterling illustrations of that strange piety which only scholars can understand."

New York, June 15, 1927.

Dr. Henry van Dyke:

Princeton University.

"The New English Dictionary, commonly known as the Oxford, is an extremely valuable and interesting book, delightful to read, although on the surface it is somewhat disconnected. Under the surface it shows the extraordinary unity, richness, and adaptability of the English language. For a student of that language, or for a writer who wishes his style to have the color and vitality which come through the associations of words in their historical use, the Oxford Dictionary is invaluable."

Dr. Lane Cooper:

Cornell University.

"Milton takes careless speech to be a mark of an indolent mind, 'already long prepared for any amount of servility,' and calls national barbarism 'a destructive intestine enemy to genius.' It is his way of saying that bad usage corrupts good manners. For our times the New English Dictionary is the great antidote to slovenly communications. As the best dictionary ever produced by man, it indicates the course of good usage in the English of the future."

Dr. William Lyon Phelps:

Yale University.

"The New English Dictionary is one of the wonders of the world. It was a colossal scheme, splendidly conceived and carried out with equal ability, enterprise and audacity. To every scholar and every person deeply interested in the English language, the work is invaluable, and apart from its practical usefulness, it is a 'perpetual refuge and delight.' "

Hon. Learned Hand:

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, New York.

"I value it as the most precious part of my library and treat it with an almost pathetic reverence. It is the final authority in all matters of language in my home and has always been so. I am unwilling to recognize any other as even in the second place and wish it might become generally, as I think it is by all who are competent to judge, the only criterion for the correct use of English words."

Dr. Cyrus Adler:

President, Dropsie College, Philadelphia.

"I know of no dictionary or thesaurus of any living language which in any way approaches, in method and completeness, this splendid dictionary of the English language. It gives a perfectly clear picture of the origin of every word in the language, of the historical development of its meaning, and the milestones, as it were, through the English literature in which those different shades of meaning are fixed. It is a work of which everyone who loves the English language, or indeed the history of any language, may well be proud."
